Fair Practices Bill Heads for House Action

First Civil Rights Measure Expected To Face Heavy Going

WASHINGTON (AP)—A controversial fair employment practices bill apparently is going to be the first civil rights measure to be acted on in the House this session.

Plans are being made to bring it to the floor before the Aug. 28 mass demonstration in Washington called by Negro civil rights leaders.

The chances are the administration's omnibus civil rights bill will still be making slow progress through committees then and congressional leaders would like to be able to show the demonstrators something more substantial in the way of action.

Pinning their hopes to the FEPC bill could be a risky gamble, however, as the measure faces heavy going. Congress has been refusing to action fair employment bills for years.

Backers of the bill now getting the green light for floor action are counting on Republican support to put it across.

The bill came out of the House Education and Labor Committee with five of the 12 Republican members supporting it. Most of the others favored a substitute measure instead of flatly opposing the legislation.

The bill would create a five-member commission and an office of administrator. The commission would be empowered to issue orders banning racial discrimination in employment. The top substitute, offered by Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., would transfer the enforcement powers to the federal courts.

Griffin said he will offer his version on the House floor if the bill gets there.

The normal legislative route through the House Rules Committee is considered blocked and plans now being made involve bringing the bill up on what is known as Calendar Wednesday. This is an emergency procedure under which committee chairmen can call up any of their bills blocked in the Rules Committee. It is rarely used because action taken under it must be concluded in one day and numerous opportunities for delay and obstruction are available to opponents.

Administration support for the legislation has been lukewarm. President Kennedy endorsed it in his civil rights message to Congress last month, but did not include it in his legislative package.

On the Senate side of the Capitol Undersecretary of Labor John F. Hening urged a labor subcommittee Wednesday to act speedily on legislation to prevent employers and unions alike from discriminating against Negroes in employment.

Railroads Avert Strike by Delaying Imposition of New Manpower Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's railroads agreed today to put off for 30 days the posting of new manpower-trimming work rules. This averts a threatened nationwide strike next Tuesday.

Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, said the 195 carriers involved in the explosive work rules dispute would not impose the changes until 12:01 a.m. Aug. 29.

Loomis said the railroads were taking this step in order to cooperate with Congress which is considering President Kennedy's plan to turn the 4-year-old work rules controversy over to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Reds Said Flop In East Berlin

Anti-Communist Spirit Increases, Nixon Finds

BERLIN (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon made an unheralded return visit to East Berlin Wednesday night and found that "communism is a complete failure in East Berlin."

He said he found the East Berliners even more anti-communist than the Poles and the Hungarians.

Heckled by Communists and trailed by a horde of security agents on his scheduled visit earlier in the day, Nixon decided to see "what life is really like in East Berlin."

Walking dimly lit streets, Nixon encountered East Berliners who whispered "I'm no Communist, Mr. Nixon" and "our only hope lies in you Americans," then disappeared in shadows.

Youths in a night club cheered when Nixon told them, "I've been in Budapest and I only hope you people can some day get at least the small amount of freedom that the Hungarians have."

Nixon, visibly moved by the East Berliners' reaction, told The Associated Press in an exclusive account of his impressions: "It was an unforgettable experience because after my first visit I wondered if the East German people might lack the will to resist that the Polish people and the Hungarian people have demonstrated on my visits to Warsaw and Budapest."

"But I found first-hand that the German people are, if anything, even more outspoken in their allegiance to the West and in their complete contempt for and opposition to the Communist regime than the Poles and Hungarians."

Nixon spent two hours on his second trip behind the Red wall, accompanied by his wife, Pat; an official from the U.S. diplomatic mission in West Berlin; Jack Brown, a traveling companion of the Nixon's from California, and an AP correspondent.

On a street corner a woman in her 70s kissed Nixon's hand, said "pray for us" and vanished into the night.

Antioch Rally Held For Defense Funds

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—The Antioch Committee for Racial Equality staged a big rally Wednesday night and afterward reported it had raised most of the money needed to cover legal expenses for the defense of 17 sit-in demonstrators convicted Wednesday of trespassing.

A committee spokesman said $385 was collected at the rally, making a total of $1,300 raised out of $1,500 needed. A committee demonstration May 18 at the barbershop of Lewis Genger led to the trial in Xenia.

The convicted youths, students at Antioch College here, were protesting Genger's refusal to serve Negroes.

Guatemala Breaks Off Relations with Britain

GUATEMALA (AP)—Guatemala's ruling junta has broken relations with Britain because of the British decision to grant independence to British Honduras next year.

Guatemala claims sovereignty over neighboring British Honduras.

The chairman of the House and Senate Commerce committees had requested the delay Wednesday saying Congress didn't have time to act by Monday evening.

When the request was made, Loomis' immediate response was to say the railroads would be forced to continue "unnecessary payments for work not needed or not performed."

Loomis and J.E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, returned this morning for the second day of hearings before the House committee.

Its chairman, Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., and Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., acting chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said Congress does not have time to act on the Kennedy plan before the work rules-strike deadline.

Pastore warned that several senators already had prepared resolutions to force a 30-day standstill in the dispute.

"But it would be most unfortunate for Congress to have to take that kind of action," Pastore said.

Harris made his plea for postponement as the House committee opened hearings on the administration plan to have the commerce commission handle work rules issues for the next two years, unless the unions and the railroads negotiate a settlement.

Key issue in the controversy is the makeup of the crews that operate trains. The railroads want to do away with some 60,000 jobs including those of 32,000 firemen and impose a variety of other rule changes.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz argued the administration's case before the House committee for six hours Wednesday, while Loomis and Wolfe appeared before the Senate committee's four-hour night hearing.

Loomis said the executive board of his association unanimously approved Kennedy's proposal.

Earlier, H. E. Gilbert, the head of the independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, said in St. Louis the five unions are all opposed.

Rockefeller Strategist Calm In Face of Goldwater Boom

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Strategists in Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's political planning division take calmly the accounts of Sen. Barry Goldwater's growing strength in such states as Arkansas, Maryland and Idaho.

The New York governor and the Arizona senator are the two men most prominently mentioned for the Republican nomination for president next year, although neither has formally announced as a candidate.

Many observers think Goldwater is well ahead. Even Rockefeller's most ardent supporters concede the governor lost ground this year when he married the divorced mother of four children.

Nevertheless Rockefeller is mounting a strong campaign for the nomination.

Reports of Goldwater strength are interpreted here not by numbers of states but by delegate strength in the nominating convention next July.

$100,539,000 Investment Made by Man

NEW YORK (AP)—Shipping tycoon Daniel K. Ludwig has purchased 1.34 million shares of Union Oil Co. of California common stock, paying $100,539,000 as a personal investment.

The stock was bought from the Phillips Petroleum Co., said William L. Stewart Jr., chairman of Union Oil.

The transaction was revealed in a routine quarterly earnings statement issued Wednesday by Phillips. Phillips acknowledged the sale, but both Phillips and Union Oil declined to name the purchaser.

Ludwig, 66, reputed to have a personal fortune of about $350 million, owns one of the world's largest tanker fleets and is chief stockholder of American-Hawaiian Steamship Co.

He has offices in Manhattan and lives in Darien, Conn., but was reported to be out of the country and couldn't be reached for comment.

William W. Wagner, president of the steamship company, confirmed Ludwig's purchase of 15 per cent of Union's common stock. He said it was strictly a "personal investment" by Ludwig.

No Red Tint Found On Rights Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy declared today the Justice Department has "no evidence that any of the top leaders of the major civil rights groups are Communists or Communist-controlled."

He told the Senate Commerce information from the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other sources.

He said this includes "Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., about whom particular accusations were made as well as other leaders."

Charges of Communist influence in the civil rights movement had been made by Govs. Ross Barnett of Mississippi and George C. Wallace of Alabama and Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett of Arkansas in previous testimony before the Commerce Committee.

Details such as these occupy practical politicians, rather than the liberal vs. conservative philosophical debate that is attracting public attention.

There will be 53 delegations at the convention—the 50 states plus the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. They will comprise 1,308 delegates. A majority of 655 votes will be needed for nomination.

This is the way the Rockefeller strategists view the situation: Goldwater's main strength lies in the South, Southwest and Midwest. Give him every vote in every delegation from the 28 states in those regions and he would have 573—short of the nomination.

The nine big industrial states—New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and California—will have a total of 512 votes. Rockefeller is counting on strong support from them.

He also looks to the 70 votes in the rest of New England, the 60 votes in the Western states of Oregon, Washington and Colorado and to the 37 votes in the combined delegations from Alaska, Hawaii, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Other states are harder to classify, even in general terms. The arithmetic exercises assume, of course, a convention showdown between Rockefeller and Goldwater.

Some observers are talking of a Rockefeller-Goldwater stalemate that could send the convention searching for other candidates.

Water Spout Hits Florida

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—A cone of water a half-mile high whipped out of the Gulf of Mexico and cut a two-mile path through a lagoon. It ripped up fishing camps, demolished pleasure boats and temporarily stranded at least nine persons. But no injuries were reported.

Fishermen estimated the water spout—which is a tornado over water—was pushed by winds of more than 100 miles an hour when it struck Wednesday.

The main damage was done by one huge water spout, estimated by observers to be a half-mile tall and more than 200 yards at the base. But several other smaller spouts slammed against the beaches near the lagoon, about 10 miles west of Pensacola.

Damage estimates ran from $80,000 to $150,000. At least a dozen boats were destroyed and several fishing shacks were blown in.

Communist China Resumes Buildup

NEW DELHI (AP)—India has told the six Colombo nations that Communist China is again engaged in a military buildup along the disputed Himalayan border, official sources said today.

Foreign Secretary M.J. Desai called in diplomats of Burma, Cambodia, Ceylon, Ghana, Indonesia, and the United Arab Republic to tell them about the situation the sources said. The six countries drafted proposals at Colombo last December for keeping peace on the India-China border after the Chinese attack and cease fire last fall.

Joint Chiefs Mum on Pact

Nuclear Test Ban Views Not Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff appear to have been left in the dark about details of the administration's proposal for a limited ban on nuclear testing until almost the final day of diplomatic discussions in Moscow.

Because of this, up to Tuesday morning the military chiefs had taken no position on the pact, which is awaiting initialing by the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain. What their view is at the moment is not known.

The majority of the strategy-making group reportedly was opposed to the proposal of a year ago for a so-called comprehensive test ban. That would have covered all forms of testing, including underground blasts.

The position of most of the chiefs then was that a comprehensive ban would have been unenforceable. The proposal at this year's Moscow session was to exclude underground shots, but impose a ban on all tests in the atmosphere, in space or under water.

There were some indications today that for reasons of broad national policies the chiefs might withhold objections to the new plan, even if they lacked complete enthusiasm for it on military grounds.

Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told news Wednesday that Secretary of State Dean Rusk informed his committee that he was not qualified to answer technical questions about the draft of the proposed pact. Therefore, said Russell, it is necessary to have more complete hearings and "we will have the Joint Chiefs of Staff testifying in this committee."

On the other hand, all or at least a majority of the chiefs may have accepted the idea that the omission of a ban on underground testing makes a limited pact militarily acceptable.

Ohio Employment, Unemployment Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state's labor force now stands approximately 30,000 short of the four million mark.

Statistics for June released by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation Wednesday estimated the total available labor force at 3,970,000.

Actual employment was estimated at 3,792,000, a climb of 1.9 per cent from May, with most of the increase attributed to agriculture.

Unemployment rose slightly from 4 per cent of the labor force in May to 4.5 per cent in June. The estimated total of unemployed workers was 179,000.

Refugee Claims Soviets Building Base in Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Russians are building a new base near Santiago de Las Vegas in Havana Province, and their military buildup continues throughout Cuba, newly arrived refugees reported today.

Carlos Fraga Perez, who lived in Santiago de Las Vegas eight years, said there are indications missile installations are going in at the new base.

Once Around Roundtown

BIRTHDAY felicitations are in order for Pickaway County Engineer Henry McCrady today.

The engineer admits to being 55. His wife said they were spending the week celebrating.

Tuesday they saw the stage show at the Veterans Memorial in Columbus. Last night they went to the races at Scioto Downs.

Tonight Mrs. McCrady says they are going out for dinner. But she has no plans for tomorrow as yet.

McCrady said maybe the reason he is feeling more aches and pains lately is due to increased activity rather than age. This comment came after he heard his wife's account of the extensive celebration plans.

Nixon Deplores Republican 'Cannibalism'

BERLIN (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon today urged GOP presidential hopefuls to "quit indulging in the favorite Republican sport of cannibalism, or they are going into a heavy defeat."

"The salvos being fired at each other by the candidates are damaging the Republican cause," he told U.S. newsmen.

He had been asked to assess the chances of Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of winning the Republican nomination.

"The battle is just beginning," he said. "People who are already conceding to Goldwater are making just as serious a mistake as those who conceded to Rockefeller just three months ago. My advice is to wait until all the candidates are known."

He said that President Kennedy is a clever opponent and has the advantage of incumbency.

Candidates for the nomination must show how they can take on this opponent, not their rivals for the nomination, he said.

"The sort of name calling now going on can only result in the weakening of the candidate," Nixon said.

Lebanon Escapee Is Object of Hunt

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police both here and in Columbus and other Ohio law enforcement officers were conducting an intensive search today for Richard Walter Ermacora, an escapee from the Lebanon Correctional Institute.

Ermacora, 27, a former Columbus city fireman, is believed to be the gunman who terrorized a taxi driver and threatened to shoot a Dayton detective sergeant here Wednesday night.

The man, about to be arrested when the taxi took him to a house Dayton police had staked out after getting a tip he was in the area, fled after getting the drop on Sgt. J. D. Reay. He forced cabbie Donald P. Reed, 32, to drive him away, then a few blocks away ordered Reed out.

Governors Reap Few Benefits

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Scattered Democrats and Republicans merged today from the cauldron of the 55th annual Governors' Conference with few political benefits to harvest.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who once was considered the leading candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination picked up most of the publicity on the civil rights issue that seems to offer him his best opportunity to return to the front.

But Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who was represented by supporters, nevertheless didn't lose any ground among GOP state executives who believe he is the man to beat.

GOP Gov. George Romney of Michigan, counted as a possible entry in the Republican presidential contest, chalked out a position as a strong civil rights advocate but as an angry critic of more federal direction of the nation's economic ills.

Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio, who fended off questions about the possibility of a favorite-son candidacy, glowed over the selection of Cleveland for the 1964 conference.

To Republican Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas came the honor of the conference chairmanship after only two years in office.

Grab by Cuba Unprecedented

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government has ordered the confiscation of the American Embassy building in Havana as retaliation for the freeing of Cuban assets in the United States.

A western diplomat here called it "a most serious violation of international law."

The decree also called for seizure by Cuba of all furniture and equipment in the building.

The Swiss Embassy, which has been handling American interests here, was completely taken by surprise. The Swiss have been using the building for tasks connected with this.

State Department officials in Washington said they knew of no case in history where one power had confiscated the embassy of another. Under the rules of diplomatic immunity the embassy properties are regarded as a form of extension of the territories of the countries represented and are immune from arbitrary seizure.

Negro Cleric Buys White Area Home

CHICAGO (AP)—Police Wednesday night dispersed a crowd of nearly 100 persons who jeered police on duty at a house in a South Side white neighborhood which has been sold to a Negro family.

Police forced the crowd to remain a block from the house after the new owner, a Negro minister, arrived to show the house to some friends.

Capt. Thomas Charles said the Negro family plan to move into the house on Saturday. A spokesman for the Chicago Commission on Human Relations said no Negroes live within three or four blocks of the house.

Formal Signing Due Next Week In Moscow

Nuclear Shots in Air, In Space, under Water Outlawed by 3 Powers

MOSCOW (AP)—A partial nuclear test ban agreement was initiated today and W. Averell Harriman announced it will be signed in Moscow next week by Foreign Ministers of Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States.

The chief U.S. negotiator, British Science Minister Lord Hailsham and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko hailed the agreement banning nuclear weapons tests in the air, outer space and under water.

Harriman told reporters the treaty will be signed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Gromyko at next week's ceremony.

The three spokesmen announced the action after a three-hour meeting at the Foreign Ministry reception hall in Spiridonovka Palace.

Harriman told the newsmen that he had completed a "very important work."

Gromyko told nearly 100 assembled reporters: "The end has been successful. Let us consider this as a basis for further steps."

Said Hailsham: "It is the beginning of many good things."

News correspondents were called in at 7:25 p.m. and told by Gromyko that the document had been initiated.

The correspondents, who had waited in the streets for over four hours, asked why it had taken so long.

Gromyko replied: "we made plans for the future."

This presumably was a reference to other issues dividing the East and West.

Premier Khrushchev, for example, wants the agreement followed up quickly by a nonaggression pact between the Atlantic Alliance and its Communist equivalent, the Warsaw Pact powers.

For a time it was feared that this question might hold up the initialing of the limited test ban agreement. Harriman and Hailsham were authorized only to negotiate on the test ban.

Earlier in the day, experts of the three powers met and made some last-minute revisions. This caused some surprise, since the draft was reported in final form Wednesday.

The initialing climaxed 10 days of negotiations.

The greatest appendage proposed by the Soviet Union was for a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Alliance and the Communist states of the Warsaw Pact.

Both Harriman and Lord Hailsham came to Moscow with authority to negotiate only the test ban and not to go further than a general discussion of a nonaggression pact, which would vitally concern the other 13 NATO Allies.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in a letter to heads of African nations released Wednesday, said the partial test ban could result in a "radical turn toward a better international climate."

He added that a nonaggression pact between the Western and Communist alliances also would improve the international climate, but he did not say a nonaggression pact was a Soviet condition for agreeing to the test ban.

Khrushchev also offered Africa a guarantee not to use nuclear weapons there if World War III broke out, provided the Western powers would make the same pledge.

The treaty, if it follows a Western draft presented before the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva year ago, bans testing in the air, under water and in outer space by the signatory powers. The signers also are pledged not to aid in spreading nuclear weapons to other countries.

It has a safety valve permitting any nation to withdraw in 60 days notice if it suspects that one of the countries has violated the treaty, or that some other nation has detonated a nuclear device under circumstances impairing the security of any signer.

The treaty does not include underground testing because of the failure of the Western nations and the Soviets to agree on safeguards to detect violations.

Fair Practices Bill Heads for House Action

First Civil Rights Measure Expected To Face Heavy Going

WASHINGTON (AP)—A controversial fair employment practices bill apparently is going to be the first civil rights measure to be acted on in the House this session.

Plans are being made to bring it to the floor before the Aug. 28 mass demonstration in Washington called by Negro civil rights leaders.

The chances are the administration's omnibus civil rights bill will still be making slow progress through committees then and congressional leaders would like to be able to show the demonstrators

Pinning their hopes to the FEPC ever, as the measure faces heavy for years.

Backers of the bill now getting the green light for floor action are counting on Republican support to put it across.

The bill came out of the House
Education and Labor Committee with five of the 12 Republican members supporting it. Most of the others favored a substitute measure instead of flatly opposing the legislation.

The bill would create a five-member commission and an office of administrator. The commission would be empowered to issue orders banning racial discrimination in employment. The top substitute, offered by Rep.
Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., would transfer the enforcement powers to the federal courts.

Griffin has said he will offer his version on the House floor if the bill gets there.

The normal legislative route through the House Rules Committee is considered blocked and plans now being made involve bringing the bill up on what is known as Calendar Wednesday.
This is an emergency procedure

tunities for delay and obstruction in his civil rights message to Congress last month, but did not include it in his legislative package.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's railroads agreed today to put off for 30 days the posting of new manpower-trimming work rules. This averts a threatened nationwide strike next Tuesday.

Daniel P. Loomis, president of the Association of American Railroads, said the 195 carriers involved in the explosive work rules dispute would not impose the changes until 12:01 a.m. Aug.
29.

Loomis said the railroads were taking this step in order to cooperate with Congress which is considering President Kennedy's plan to turn the 4-year-old work rules controversy over to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The chairman of the House and Senate Commerce committees had requested the delay Wednesday saying Congress didn't have time to act by Monday evening.

When the request was made, Loomis' immediate response was to say the railroads would be forced to continue "unnecessary payments for work not needed or not performed."

Loomis and J.E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, returned this morning for the second day of hearings before the House committee.

Its chairman, Rep. Oren Harris,
D-Ark., and Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., acting chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said Congress does not have time to act on the Kennedy plan before the work rules-strike deadline.

Pastore warned that several senators already had prepared resolutions to force a 30-day standstill in the dispute.

"But it would be most unfortunate for Congress to have to take that kind of action," Pastore said.

Harris made his plea for postponement as the House committee opened hearings on the administration plan to have the commerce commission handle work rules issues for the next two years, unless the unions and the railroads negotiate a settlement.

Key issue in the controversy is the makeup of the crews that operate trains. The railroads want to do away with some 60,000 jobs including those of 32,000 firemen and impose a variety of other rule changes.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz argued the administration's case before the House committee for six hours Wednesday, while Loomis and Wolfe appeared before the Senate committee's four-hour night hearing.

Loomis said the executive board of his association unanimously approved Kennedy's proposal.

Earlier, H. E. Gilbert, the head of the independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, said in St. Louis the five unions are all opposed.

Details such as these occupy practical politicians, rather than the liberal vs. conservative philosophical debate that is attracting public attention.

There will be 53 delegations at the convention—the 50 states plus the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. They will comprise 1,308 delegates. A majority of 655 votes will be needed for nomination.

This is the way the Rockefeller strategists view the situation:

Goldwater's main strength lies in the South, Southwest and Midwest. Give him every vote in every delegation from the 28 states in those regions and he would have 573—short of the nomination.

The nine big industrial states—
New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and California—will have a total of 512 votes. Rockefeller is counting on strong support from them.

He also looks to the 70 votes in the rest of New England, the 60 votes in the Western states of Oregon, Washington and Colorado and to the 37 votes in the combined delegations from Alaska, Hawaii, the District of Columbia,
Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Other states are harder to classify, even in general terms.

The arithmetic exercises assume, of course, a convention showdown between Rockefeller and Goldwater.

Some observers are talking of a Rockefeller-Goldwater stalemate that could send the convention searching for other candidates.

Sen. Richard Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told newsmen Wednesday that Secretary of State Dean Rusk informed his committee that he was not qualified to answer technical questions about the draft of the proposed pact. Therefore, said Russell, it is necessary to have more complete hearings and "we will have the Joint Chiefs of Staff testifying in this committee."

On the other hand, all or at least a majority of the chiefs may have accepted the idea that the

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police both here and in Columbus and other Ohio law enforcement officers were conducting an intensive search today for Richard Walter Ermacora, an escapee from the Lebanon Correctional Institute.

Ermacora, 27, a former Columbus city fireman, is believed to be the gunman who terrorized a taxi driver and threatened to shoot a Dayton detective sergeant here Wednesday night.

The man, about to be arrested when the taxi took him to a house Dayton police had staked out after getting a tip he was in the area, fled after getting the drop on Sgt. J. D. Reay. He forced cabbie Donald P. Reed, 32, to drive him away, then a few blocks away ordered Reed out.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Russians

at the new base.

NEW DELHI (AP)—India has told the six Colombo nations that Communist China is again engaged in a military buildup along the disputed Himalayan border, official sources said today.

Foreign Secretary M.J. Desai called in diplomats of Burma, Cambodia, Ceylon, Ghana, Indonesia, and the United Arab Emirates to tell them about the situation the sources said. The six countries drafted proposals at Colombo last December for keeping peace on the India-China border after the Chinese attack and cease fire last fall.

information from the Federal Bureau of Investigation and other sources.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty.
Gen. Robert F. Kennedy declared today the Justice Department has "no evidence that any of the top leaders of the major civil rights groups are Communists or Communist-controlled."

Once Around Roundtown

BIRTHDAY felicitations are in order for Pickaway County Engineer Henry McCrady today.

The engineer admits to being 55. His wife said they were spending the week celebrating.

Tuesday they saw the stage show at the Veterans Memorial in Columbus. Last night they went to the races at Scioto Downs.

Tonight Mrs. McCrady says they are going out for dinner. But she has no plans for tomorrow yet.

McCrady said maybe the reasons he is feeling more aches and pains lately is due to increased activity rather than age. This comment came after he heard his wife's account of the extensive celebration plans.

Nixon Deplores Republican 'Cannibalism'

BERLIN (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon today urged GOP presidential hopefuls to "quit indulging in the favorite Republican sport of cannibalism, or they are going into a heavy defeat."

"The salvos being fired at each other by the candidates are damaging the Republican cause," he told U.S. newsmen.

He had been asked to assess the chances of Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of winning the Republican nomination.

"The battle is just beginning," he said. "People who are already conceding to Goldwater are making just as serious a mistake as those who conceded to Rockefeller just three months ago. My advice is to wait until all the candidates are known."

He said that President Kennedy

Governors Reap Few Benefits

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)— Scarred Democrats and Republicans merged today from the cau-dron of the 55th annual Governors' Conference with few political benefits to harvest.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who once was considered the leading candidate for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination picked up most of the publicity on the civil rights issue that seems to offer him his best opportunity to return to the front.

But Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who was represented by supporters, nevertheless didn't lose any ground among GOP state executives who believe he is the man to beat.

GOP Gov. George Romney of Michigan, counted as a possible entry in the Republican presidential contest, chalked out a position as a strong civil rights advocate but as an angry critic of more federal direction of the nation's economic ills.

Republican Gov. James A.
Rhodes of Ohio, who fended off questions about the possibility of a favorite-son candidacy, glowed over the selection of Cleveland for the 1964 conference.

To Republican Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas came the honor of the conference chairmanship after only two years in office.

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government has ordered the confiscation of the American Embassy building in Havana as retaliation for the freezing of Cuban assets in the United States.

A western diplomat here called it "a most serious violation of international law."

The decree also called for seizure by Cuba of all furniture and equipment in the building.

The Swiss Embassy, which has been handling American interests here, was completely taken by surprise. The Swiss have been using the building for tasks connected with this.

State Department officials in Washington said they knew of no case in history where one power had confiscated the embassy of another. Under the rules of diplomatic immunity a part of international law, the embassy properties are regarded as a form of extension of the territories of the countries represented and are immune from arbitrary seizure.

He added that a nonaggression pact between the Western and Communist alliances also would improve the international climate,
but he did not say a nonaggression pact was a Soviet condition for agreeing to the test ban.

Khrushchev also offered Africa
a guarantee not to use nuclear weapons there if World War III broke out, provided the Western powers would make the same pledge.

The treaty, if it follows a Western draft presented before the 17-nation disarmament committee in Geneva year ago, bans testing in the air, under water and in outer space by the signatory powers. The signers also are pledged not to aid in spreading nuclear weapons to other countries.

It has a safety valve permitting any nation to withdraw in 60 days notice if it suspects that one of the countries has violated the treaty, or that some other nation has detonated a nuclear device under circumstances impairing the security of any signer.

The treaty does not include underground testing because of the failure of the Western nations and the Soviets to agree on safeguards to detect violations.

spokesman for the Chicago Commission on Human Relations said no Negroes live within three or four blocks of the house.

CHICAGO (AP)—Police
Wednesday night dispersed a crowd of nearly 100 persons who jeered police on duty at a house in a South Side white neighborhood which has been sold to a Negro family.

Police forced the crowd to remain a block from the house af-

Formal Signing Due Next Week In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—A partial nuclear test ban agreement was initiated today and W. Averell Harriman announced it will be signed in Moscow next week by Foreign Ministers of Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States.

The chief U.S. negotiator, British Science Minister Lord Hailsham and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko hailed the agreement banning nuclear weapons tests in the air, outer space and under water.

Harriman told reporters the treaty will be signed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Gromyko at next week's ceremony.

The three spokesmen announced the action after a three-hour meeting at the Foreign Ministry reception hall in Spiridonovka Palace.

Harriman told the newsmen that he had completed a "very important work."

Gromyko told nearly 100 assembled reporters: "The end has been successful. Let us consider this as a basis for further steps."

Said Hailsham: "It is the beginning of many good things."

News correspondents were called in at 7:25 p.m. and told by Gromyko that the document had been initiated.

The correspondents, who had waited in the streets for over four hours, asked why it had taken so long.

Gromyko replied: "we made plans for the future."

This presumably was a reference to other issues dividing the East and West.

Premier Khrushchev for example, wants the agreement followed up quickly by a nonaggres-sion pact between the Atlantic Alliance and its Communist equivalent, the Warsaw Pact powers.

For a time it was feared that this question might hold up the initiating of the limited test ban agreement. Harriman and Hailsham were authorized only to negotiate on the test ban.

Earlier in the day, experts of the three powers met and made some last-minute revisions. This caused some surprise, since the draft was reported in final form Wednesday.

The initialing climaxed 10 days of negotiations.

The greatest appendage proposed by the Soviet Union was for a nonaggression pact between the North Atlantic Alliance and the Communist states of the Warsaw Pact.

Both Harriman and Lord Hailsham came to Moscow with authority to negotiate only the test ban and not to go further than a general discussion of a non-aggression pact, which would vitally concern the other 13 NATO Allies.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, in a letter to heads of African nations released Wednesday, said the partial test ban could result in a "radical turn toward a better international climate."

He added that a nonaggression
pact between the Western and Communist alliances also would improve the international climate,
but he did not say a nonaggression
pact was a Soviet condition for agreeing to the test ban.

Khrushchev also offered Africa
a guarantee not to use nuclear weapons there if World War III

Location Cards For Travelers At Patrol Post

OSP Advises Travelers To Report Destination To Friends, Relatives

Going on a trip? Taking a vacation?

If so, the Highway Patrol reminds to let a neighbor or a relative know where you can be contacted if an emergency at home should arise.

To help you do this, Sgt. S. L. Adomaitis of the Circleville Patrol Post said cards may be obtained for this purpose at the Post. He urged all persons planning trips to use them.

Furnished as a free service for the motoring public, the cards provide for full information on routes of travel, stops en route and address at destination.

They also include space for a complete description of your automobile and other valuable data needed to aid in locating persons immediately, should it be necessary, when away from home.

There are too many occasions, the Sergeant said, when people leave for extended trips without providing anyone with information where they may be contacted in an emergency. This always presents a problem to enforcement agencies when their assistance in locating persons is requested.

The Highway Patrol, Adomaitis stated, stands ready to help in locating persons away from home when all other means of communication have failed.

But, he pointed out, you can help yourself the most by taking the proper precautions before leaving. "And it's as simple," he said "as filling out the card now available at Highway Patrol Posts and leaving it with a neighbor or relative who would most likely want to get in touch with you or a member of your party should an emergency arise."

Cards for this purpose may not only be picked up any time at the Circleville Post, but can also be obtained from any highway patrolman.

Ohio To Appeal Billboard Decision

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—In an effort to obtain an additional $10 million in federal highway funds, the State of Ohio plans to ask the U.S. Supreme Court to reverse two lower court decisions declaring the state's billboard law unconstitutional.

The federal government offers a one half of one per cent bonus in highway funds to states with legislation prohibiting billboards within 660 feet of interstate highways.

The Allen County Common Pleas Court has declared Ohio's billboard law, passed by the General Assembly in 1961, unconstitutional. The Third District Court of Appeals upheld the decision.

In 1949 Americans brewed 46 cups per pound of coffee; the average now is 63 cups.

The population of India is 440,316,000.

CLAIMS 400 MEMBERS—William F. Miller, 39, Cincinnati, Ohio, head of the controversial NAAWP (National Association for the Advancement of White People), claims he now has 400 signed members in his group. A former clerk at the YMCA, Miller says the NAAWP is aimed at fighting "civil disobedience" by integrationists.

K of P Schedules Monday Cookout

Philos Lodge No. 64, Knights of Pythias, will take time out Monday for a steak and sweetcorn cookout.

The outing will be conducted at the home of R. S. Denman, 225 Northridge Road, starting at 6:30 p. m. The regular business meeting will not be held.

Members of the cookout food committee are Denman, John W. Pontious, Raymond Reichelderfer, Marvin Cook and Robert Mills. Knights planning to attend are requested to bring their own table service.

14,000 Yankees

Now in Viet Nam

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The number of U.S. military advisers in South Viet Nam has reached 14,000, qualified sources said today.

The buildup in the American military establishment here began in late 1961 when the threat of a victory by Communist guerrillas was recognized as critical. At the time there were only about 1,000 American advisers here.

Besides servicemen, there are at least 1,000 official American civilians working directly or indirectly on the war effort against the Viet Cong. These include U.S. Aid Mission representatives working on problems of hamlet development and defense.

Kenton Councilwoman To Take Post Aug. 5

KENTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Helen Mabrey, recently appointed councilwoman here by Mayor Helen Saulsberry, will be sworn in for her new post at the council meeting Aug. 5. She is the first woman on the council in the town's history. Her name was listed erroneously as Mayberry when she was first appointed.

The population of India is 440,316,000.

MRS EDITH B. ULM

Mrs. Edith B. Ulm, 82, formerly of 531 N. Court St., died 6 p. m. yesterday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Margaret Smith, Columbus.

Mrs. Ulm was born Jan. 31, 1881 at Bremen, O., the daughter of Robert J. and Margaret Alexander Black. She was the widow of William T. Ulm.

The former resident, was a member of the Methodist Church, WCTU of the church, Monday Club and the Pickaway Plains Chapter DAR.

Surviving are one son, Robert W. K. Ulm, Ph.D., Lewiston, Idaho; two grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Margaret Smith, Columbus; and one niece, Miss Helen Black, Columbus.

Arrangements are being completed by the Defenbaugh Funeral Home.

Woman Fined Here For Disturbing Peace

Georgetta Dean, 227 Town St., was fined $25 and costs today in Circleville Municipal Court. She was charged with disrupting the peace. Acting Municipal Court Judge David Kraft suspended $15 of the fine.

END OF DREAM STREET—Patricia Anne Zwer, 19, has moved from her swank, $250-a-month apartment on her dream street in New York to the Women's House of Detention. Police accused the $85-a-week secretary in a Manhattan office of taking $20,000, by way of forged withdrawal slips, from the 35-year savings account of her aunt, Olga Zwer. Detectives found a closet full of fine clothes, a roll of $1,400 in bills and a bank book showing $3,500 in deposits, inside her apartment, and a brand new sports car outside.

Pennsy Milk Strike Accord Is Sought

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A joint negotiating session was called today by State Conciliator Joseph Bach in an effort to avert a possible strike of some 3,000 dairy employees in a 10-county Western Pennsylvania area.

Bach held separate sessions with union and management representatives Wednesday but would not comment on the results.

A spokesman for Local 205, Milk & Ice Cream Salesmen, Drivers & Dairy Plant Employees, said a strike deadline has not been set.

However, a union official said earlier in the week that a walkout could come by Friday.

Booster Rocket Fails, Syncom Launch Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Trouble in the Delta booster rocket forced a third postponement of the attempt to launch the Syncom 2 communications satellite into a 22,300-mile-high orbit where it would appear to hover over one area of the earth.

No new launch date was set immediately.

Surplus Going Abroad

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's Liberal government plans a tenfold increase in its disposal of surplus wheat and flour through various foreign aid programs, Trade Minister Mitchell Sharp reports.

France OKs Objectors

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly today passed a bill giving legal status to conscientious objectors, but also requiring twice the normal service period in nonviolent duty.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

PIGGY-BANK: The Air Force has disclosed that it has fired a small satellite deep into space from the back of a larger one.

The parent satellite was fired into a relatively low polar orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., June 27. The second satellite, riding piggy-back with a 50-pound payload, was sent sailing into orbit July 1, triggered by an electronic signal, the Air Force said Wednesday.

There was no explanation why the Air Force waited so long before announcing the piggy-back launching.

The main objective, a spokesman said, was exploration of the earth's magnetic fields and their relation to energy reaching the earth from the sun.

Dayton Steelworkers Reject Contract Offer

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Members of two United Steelworkers locals on strike against the Dayton Steel Foundry have rejected a company contract offer.

The proposed contract went to the membership—more than 1,000 workers are out—with no recommendation from their union committee. Wednesday's rejection means that the strike now becomes virtually a month old.

has suggested to Congress that to bolster employment, the working of overtime should be discouraged by requiring employers to pay for it at two-and-a-half or triple time.

Such premier pay should be required on work in excess of seven hours a day and 35 hours a week, said Joseph A. Beirne, president of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America.

"Obviously, the present time-and-a-half overtime rate for work in excess of 40 hours in a week is not discouraging overtime in many industries," he told a House Labor subcommittee Wednesday.

OXFORD TROOPS: The Pentagon estimates it cost about $4,364,000 to maintain Army troops at the University of Mississippi for the protection of James Meredith, a Negro student.

The estimate covers costs from last October, when the first troops were moved into the Oxford, Miss., area, through June 30. Peak strength was 23,000 men. The last of the troops leave today.

The Justice Department has estimated its costs for marshals and other personnel at Oxford at $559,000 at the end of June.

Baby Sitter

Sleeps, Cost

Runs High

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — Baby-sitters are proving quite expensive for Ethel Kennedy of Grant Avenue.

It cost her $30 after hiring a young boy for the sitting chore while she went shopping on downtown Sandusky.

Mrs. Kennedy reported to Sheriff Alton T. Young that when she returned home she found the boy asleep and the house overrun by children. Then she found out that $30 was missing from a suitcase.

And adding insult to injury, Mrs. Kennedy said investigation disclosed one of the youngsters was handing out $1 bills to friends.

Then, $20 was found to have been dropped in a neighborhood driveway. The property owner, however, didn't worry about the source, spent it and won't return it.

That's the risk to expect when hiring too young a baby-sitter, quipped the sheriff.

White People Group Granted Charter

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of White People chartered a chapter in Ohio today.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown issued a non-profit corporation charter to these Cincinnati trustees: Albert Umbach Woodrow Dillehay, and William F. Miller.

Miller also was listed as statutory agent and his address as the location of the chapter's principal office.

The charter related that the corporation was formed to "promote the social, educational and general welfare of the Caucasian race."

Turkeys, chickens, canned tuna and peanut butter have this in common this weekend—they offer shoppers lots of protein at bargain prices.

Beef, pork and lamb, the more popular sources, are still plentiful. But prices continue to edge higher.

Broiler-fryer chickens enjoy special attention in the Northeast and Southeast. They are considered best buys at many shops in both regions.

Beef features include rib, chuck and round roasts.

Pork attractions lean to smoked and cured varieties, with hams and picnics leading the list.

Variety meats and cold cuts offer economical eating in some areas.

Vegetables features include green beans, cabbage, squash, celery, potatoes, sweet corn, peppers, cucumbers, lettuce, peas and onions. Tomato prices vary, low some places where nearby supplies are good but higher than seasonal in many other places.

Regionally, other vegetable features include eggplant, spinach, new sweet potatoes, broccoli, cauliflower and okra.

Fruit features include blueberries, strawberries, grapes, peaches, bananas, new apples, mangoes, limes and watermelon.

Grocery-shelf attractions, with peanut butter include evaporated milk, cooking and salad oils, and mayonnaise.

2 More Companies Boost Tire Prices

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two more Akron rubber firms announced today they are raising their tire prices.

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.'s price changes affect its passenger car, farm and truck tires. Increases, effective Aug. 1, range from 2½ to 5 per cent on most lines of passenger tires and 2½ to 3½ per cent on other tires.

B. F. Goodrich Aerospace and Defense Products Division will increase the price of consumer aircraft tires 3½ per cent, effective after Friday.

Other Akron rubber firms previously announced price boosts on passenger car, truck and industrial tires and tubes.

Tire makers had asserted in recent weeks that higher prices are needed to help offset rising costs.

The lowest state of the Union is Florida, whose highest elevation is 345 feet.

Universities To Turn Hotel into Dormitory

CLEVELAND (AP) — Western Reserve University and Case Institute of Technology plan to spend $500,000 to convert the former Tudor Arms Hotel into a residence for their single male graduate students.

Completion of the remodeling, expected within a year, will provide facilities for 450 students the schools said Wednesday in a joint announcement.

Until the income tax was imposed 50 years ago, customs duties accounted for more than half the federal revenue.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington: PIGGY-BANK: The Air Force has disclosed that it has fired a small satellite deep into space from the back of a larger one.

The parent satellite was fired into a relatively low polar orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., June 27. The second satellite, riding piggy-back with a 50-pound payload, was sent sailing into orbit July 1, triggered by an electronic signal, the Air Force said Wednesday.

There was no explanation why the Air Force waited so long before announcing the piggy-back launching.

The main objective, a spokesman said, was exploration of the earth's magnetic fields and their relation to energy reaching the earth from the sun.

Baffling Defense of a Dollar

By John Chamberlain

When it comes to currency matters, this columnist is a curbside economist. But I once took a course in Aristotelian logic, which ought to hold good both on and off curbsides, and some of our distinctly non-logical ways of defending the dollar have me completely baffled.

Since a currency, in this suspicious world, must be tied to a supporting base (short of the use of clubs and guns to make people accept paper at face value, the aim of any American administration must logically be to keep a certain amount of gold at home. This could always be done by forcible imposition of exchange controls. But we are a free people, and we have preached the durability of free convertibility of currencies. So the democratic way of defending the dollar in a free world would seem to involve making a couple of kindergarten, or primer, moves. The first move would be to stop giving titles to gold away — i.e., cut foreign aid save where it is very demonstrably a substitute for defense expenditures. The second move would be to slice the tax-consuming fat out of domestic spending programs that helps keep us a high-cost nation and so makes it unprofitable for foreigners to buy our goods.

But the days go by, and the kindergarten moves are never made. Meanwhile, the gold drain continues. On July 17 U.S. gold stocks declined to $15,633,000,000 — the lowest figure since April of 1939. (We once had $23 billion). In early July France took $50 million in gold. Meanwhile, the foreign "free world" nations have increased their short-term dollar credits from some $11 billion to $25 billion. If the bill were to be presented all at once, we could pay three-fifths of our obligations. Then the "run" would close the "bank" unless Washington chose to grab title to U.S.-owned foreign plants in order to sell them for gold or hard currencies.

The methods which have been used to cajole foreigners into withholding the presentation of bills have been many and devious. We have accepted friendly payments by France and Germany of installments on long-term debt. We have borrowed foreign currencies and, in effect, moved them about the board to forestall gold withdrawals. We have tried to stop tourists from spending their dollars on Venetian glass beads and Bavarian gewgaws. And now come the more drastic moves, such as raising short-term interest rates (to keep cash from leaving our shores) and asking Congress to put a penalty tax on Americans who buy overseas securities. The final note of desperation is contributed by the news that the U.S. has arranged for credits that will enable it to borrow up to $500 million in foreign currencies from the International Monetary Fund.

It is this column's curbside opinion that the latest moves must tend to defeat themselves for several reasons which have to do with human nature on the one hand, and with logic on the other. From the human nature standpoint, they are advertisements of weakness. Gold, it is well known, has no scent — but people who

price gold have very sensitive olfactory nerves. Smelling fear in Washington, the foreigner who possesses a short-term dollar credit must think twice about hanging on to it. On the one hand, he might desist from cashing it out of sheer friendliness for the U.S. But against his friendly feelings, he must balance his worries that Washington may soon be driven to embargo the free movement of gold from U.S. shores.

From the standpoint of logic, the idea of putting a penalty tax on U.S. purchases of foreign securities is a mystery. We advertise that we want a productive world. We need a productive Canada to complement a U.S. economy that consumes Canadian woodpulp and metals. Yet we threaten to penalize American citizens who are willing to help make the rest of the world productive. Meanwhile, we seem willing to give the outer world upwards of $4 billion in annual aid. Since the compulsion to earn money in order to pay dividends on this $4 billion is just not there, it can be easily dissipated.

An odd item bearing on the strength of the dollar is furnished by Coin World, the numismatic newspaper, which reports that the price of silver has risen to the "numismatic melting point" — meaning that it would be profitable to turn silver dollars into bar silver if you have facilities for removing the copper alloy from the coins. A queer world, with gold disappearing and silver coins threatened by the melting furnace. Yet we continue to give claims on gold away.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

An unhappy aftermath of any brilliant new drug discovery can be the indiscriminate and unscrupulous use of it by the public. L.S.D. is a perfect example of an excellent drug whose brilliance is dimmed by its abuse in the hands of those who use it for ill-advised purposes.

The discovery of the drug, lysergic acid, or L.S.D. 25, established an important landmark in the study of the cause and prevention of mental illness. This important drug attracted the attention of psychiatrists because of its peculiar ability to produce hallucinations and certain conditions that closely resembled the symptoms of some mental diseases.

Serious students in well-controlled laboratories are investigating the causes of mental illnesses by studying the behavior patterns of patients who have been given small amounts of L.S.D. Valuable information has been gleaned from these studies and the hidden nature of various kinds of emotional disturbance has been revealed.

L.S.D. has become a sophisticated fad for unsophisticated "kicks." The danger is double-barreled.

First, its indiscriminate use can cause serious toxic damage to the liver.

Second, there is the danger that a severely psychoneurotic person using the drug without medical supervision might intensify his neurotic behavior.

The black market sale of the drug is increasing. The menace of its unauthorized use is being disregarded by the beat set who are apparently willing to sacrifice even their lives for the immature conformities of L.S.D. "clubs"

The mystical qualities of this drug that induces hallucinations seem to be a "natural" for the cool set.

The pattern of behavior for this group of undisciplined and addictive kick-seekers always seems to

Decisions, Decisions, Decisions!

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments of a pavement Plato: Life's biggest problem is making small decisions. It isn't by gulps but by gnat bites that most of us are finally destroyed.

The great questions of existence are pretty well beyond our individual control.

Since the vast decisions of civilization are out of our reach, why isn't everyone cheerfully fatalistic? It is because of those nagging little decisions still left us. They wear us down and out in time.

None is really important in itself, but they all add up to uclers and tranquilizers.

Take an ordinary man waking up on an ordinary day. He has to decide:

"Can I get one more shave out of this blade, or must I put in a new one?"

"I can't find the toothpaste. If I don't brush my teeth, will they fall out before nightfall?"

"What causes that brown taste this morning? Too much soda in the scotch? Should I switch to filter cigarettes?"

"Where's that other shoe? Oh, there you are. Now, which shoe shall I put on first?"

"Why did I put on socks this color? What tie have I got that'll match them?"

"I'm sick and tired of eating noisy cereals for breakfast. But if I ask my wife to fix me a silent cereal, is it worth the fight? And what'll she say when I ask her for an extra buck for lunch?"

"Gee, I'm late. Shall I grab a cab or wait for the bus? Okay, I'll take the cab. Can I get away with a dime tip—or might I need him again sometime?"

Our hero arrives at work already wearing of decisions. But during the day he must also decide—

Whether he can safely postpone until tomorrow some problem that didn't fade away yesterday.

When to laugh as the boss tells a joke, when the boss himself never knows for sure that he reached the punch line.

Whether the vitamin capsule he forgot to swallow at lunch will do him any good if he swallows it half an hour later.

Whether he can safely sneak out 10 minutes early to be sure of getting a bus seat on the long voyage home.

He creeps feebly across this threshold only to confront more tense decisions:

If he picks up the cat by the scruff of her neck and throws her out of his favorite armchair, will she turn him to the ASPCA?

Will his children become juvenile delinquents in revenge if he insists on tuning the television set to the program he wants instead of the program they want?

Decisions decisions, decisions— all day long, every day. Enough to crack a fellow's mind. As he turns restlessly in bed, he wonders if he'd sleep better if he used a smaller pillow. Or should he get up and take a pill? Oops—there's another decision.

AT ONE of those infrequent periods when Bob Hope wasn't feeling up to the rigors of the incredible schedule he sets for himself, his doctors told him that among other things he'd have to give up for a time at least, was his beloved game of golf.

Outraged, Hope kept looking until he found a doctor who told him he could play eighteen holes any time he wanted to. "Thanks, Doctor," exulted Hope. "Just for that I'll remember you in my will." "In that case," the doctor assured him, "play thirty six!"

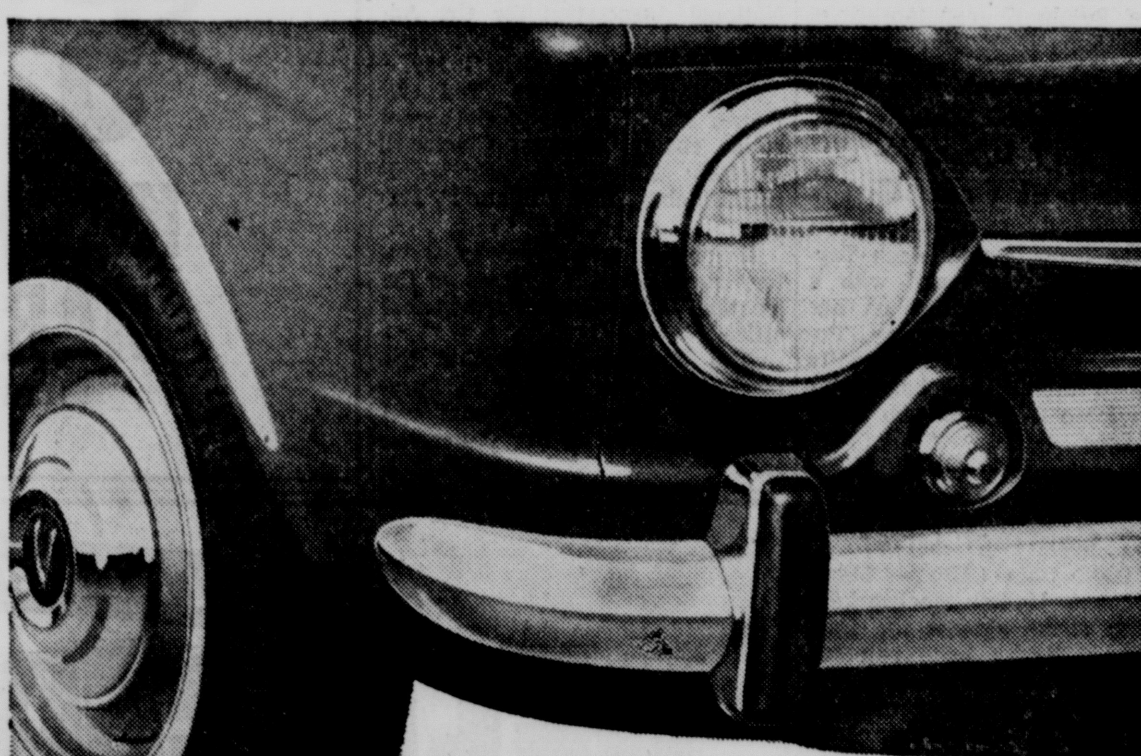

Hope confesses that when he took Jayne Mansfield along with him to entertain armed forces personnel in the Pacific area, he made her wear a special dress for the tour. It was made of two hundred yards of barbed wire. When the troupe entertained on the deck of a big cruiser, Jerry Colonna pretended to be one of the sailors on the vessel. "What's your job?" Baffling Defense of a Dollar

When it comes to currency matters, this columnist is a curbside economist. But I once took a course in Aristotelian logic, which ought to hold good both on and off curbstones, and some of our distinctly non-logical ways of defending the dollar have me completely baffled.

Since a currency, in this suspicious world, must be tied to a supporting base (short of the use of clubs and guns to make people accept paper at face value, the aim of any American administration must logically be to keep a certain amount of gold at home. This could always be done by forcible imposition of exchange controls.

But we are a free people, and we have preached the durability of free convertibility of currencies. So the democratic way of defending the dollar in a free world would seem to involve making a couple of kindergarten, or primer, moves. The first move would be to stop giving titles to gold away — i.e., cut foreign aid save where it is very demonstrably a substitute for defense expenditures. The second move would be to slice the tax-consuming fat out of domestic spending programs that helps keep us a high-cost nation and so makes it unprofitable for foreigners to buy our goods.

But the days go by, and the kindergarten moves are never made. Meanwhile, the gold drain continues. On July 17 U.S. gold stocks declined to $15,633,000,000 — the lowest figure since April of 1939. (We once had $23 billion). In early July France took $50 million in gold. Meanwhile, the foreign "free world" nations have increased their short-term dollar credits from some $11 billion to $25 billion. If the bill were to be presented all at once, we could pay three-fifths of our obligations. Then the "run" would close the "bank" unless Washington chose to grab title to U.S.-owned foreign plants in order to sell them for gold or hard currencies.

The methods which have been used to cajole foreigners into withholding the presentation of bills have been many and devious. We have accepted friendly prepayments by France and Germany of installments on long-term debt. We have borrowed foreign currencies and, in effect, moved them about the board to forestall gold withdrawals. We have tried to stop tourists from spending their dollars on Venetian glass beads and Bavarian gewgaws. And now come the more drastic moves, such as raising short-term interest rates (to keep cash from leaving our shores) and asking Congress to put a penalty tax on Americans who buy overseas securities. The final note of desperation is contributed by the news that the U.S. has arranged for credits that will enable it to borrow up to $500 million in foreign currencies from the International Monetary Fund.

It is this column's curbside opinion that the latest moves must tend to defeat themselves for several reasons which have to do with human nature on the one hand, and with logic on the other. From the human nature standpoint, they are advertisements of weakness. Gold, it is well known, has no scent — but people who

price gold have very sensitive olfactory nerves. Smelling fear in Washington, the foreigner who possesses a short-term dollar credit must think twice about hanging on to it. On the one hand, he might desist from cashing it out of sheer friendliness for the U.S. But against his friendly feelings, he must balance his worries that Washington may soon be driven to embargo the free movement of gold from U.S. shores.

From the standpoint of logic, the idea of putting a penalty tax on U.S. purchases of foreign securities is a mystery. We advertise that we want a productive world. We need a productive Canada to complement a U.S. economy that consumes a Canadian woodpulp and metals. Yet we threaten to penalize American citizens who are willing to help make the rest of the world productive. Meanwhile, we seem willing to give the outer world upwards of $4 billion in annual aid. Since the compulsion to earn money in order to pay dividends on this $4 billion is just not there, it can be easily dissipated.

An odd item bearing on the strength of the dollar is furnished by Coin World, the numismatic newspaper, which reports that the price of silver has risen to the "numismatic melting point" — meaning that it would be profitable to turn silver dollars into bar silver if you have facilities for removing the copper alloy from the coins. A queer world, with gold disappearing and silver coins threatened by the melting furnace. Yet we continue to give claims on gold away.

"This month we're going to KNOW where all the money went!"

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

An unhappy aftermath of any brilliant new drug discovery can be the indiscriminate and unapproved use of it by the public. L.S.D. is a perfect example of an excellent drug whose brilliance is dimmed by its abuse in the hands of those who use it for ill-advised purposes.

The discovery of the drug, lysergic acid, or L.S.D., 25, established an important landmark in the study of the cause and prevention of mental illness. This important drug attracted the attention of psychiatrists because of its peculiar ability to produce hallucinations and certain conditions that closely resembled the symptoms of some mental diseases.

Serious students in well-controlled laboratories are investigating the causes of mental illnesses by studying the behavior patterns of patients who have been given small amounts of L.S.D. Valuable information has been gleaned from these studies and the hidden nature of various kinds of emotional disturbance has been revealed.

L.S.D. has become a sophisticated ad for unsophisticated "kicks." The danger is double-barreled. First, its indiscriminate use can cause serious toxic damage to the liver.

Second, there is the danger that a severely psychoneurotic person using the drug without medical supervision might intensify his neurotic behavior.

The black market sale of the drug is increasing. The menace of its unauthorized use is being disregarded by the beat set who are apparently willing to sacrifice even their lives for the immature conformities of L.S.D. "clubs." The mystical qualities of this drug that induces hallucinations seem to be a "natural" for the cool set.

be the same. And if it is dangerous and hard to get, it becomes more desirable than ever.

Unfortunately, the dangers of lysergic acid, or L.S.D., are subtle and not always apparent—at first. In the light of the potential hazards of L.S.D., strict control has been established by Food and Drug administrators of the federal government. Experimentation is being limited to qualified scientific investigators.

Such supervision will maintain the safety and prudent use of a drug which can be regarded as responsible for one of the great contributions to the study of mental disease.

Parents have always respected warnings of poison and have protected their children from the accidental swallowing of poisonous fluids.

But children cannot warn adults against similar hazards.

Despite the explicit warnings on the labels of bottles containing Isopropyl Rubbing Alcohol, five fatal cases of poisoning were recently reported. This inexpensive and easily obtainable alcohol still takes its toll in lives because there are those who will not respect the "poison" warning on labels.

Educational programs sponsored by health authorities are again being devoted to the prevention of these unnecessary accidents.

Decisions, Decisions, Decisions!

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments of a pavement Plato:

Life's biggest problem is making small decisions. It isn't by gulps but by gnat bites that most of us are finally destroyed.

The great questions of existence are pretty well beyond our individual control.

Since the vast decisions of civilization are out of our reach, why isn't everyone cheerfully fatalistic? It is because of those nagging little decisions still left us. They wear us down and out in time.

None is really important in itself, but they all add up to ulcers and tranquilizers.

Take an ordinary man waking up on an ordinary day. He has to decide:

"Can I get one more shave out of this blade, or must I put in a new one?"

"I can't find the toothpaste. If I don't brush my teeth, will they fall out before nightfall?"

"What causes that brown taste this morning? Too much soda in the Scotch? Should I switch to filter cigarettes?"

"Where's that other shoe? Oh, there you are. Now, which shoe shall I put on first?"

"Why did I put on socks this color? What tie have I got that'll match them?"

"I'm sick and tired of eating noisy cereals for breakfast. But if I ask my wife to fix me a silent cereal, is it worth the fight? And what'll she say when I ask her for an extra buck for lunch?"

"Gee, I'm late. Shall I grab a cab or wait for the bus? Okay, I'll take the cab. Can I get away with a dime tip—or might I need him again sometime?"

Our hero arrives at work already wearing of decisions. But during the day he must also decide—

Whether he can safely postpone until tomorrow some problem that didn't fade away yesterday.

When to laugh as the boss tells a joke, when the boss himself never knows for sure that he reached the punch line.

Whether the vitamin capsule he forgot to swallow at lunch will do him any good if he swallows it half an hour later.

Whether he can safely sneak out 10 minutes early to be sure of getting a bus seat on the long voyage home.

He creeps feebly across this threshold only to confront more tense decisions:

If he picks up the cat by the scruff of her neck and throws her out of his favorite armchair, will she turn him to the ASPCA?

Will his children become juvenile delinquents in revenge if he insists on tuning the television set to the program he wants instead of the program they want?

Decisions decisions, decisions— all day long, every day. Enough to crack a fellow's mind. As he turns restlessly in bed, he wonders if he'd sleep better if he used a smaller pillow. Or should he get up and take a pill? Oops—there's another decision.

IDEAL 2ND CAR OR CAR FOR THE BOY OR GIRL GOING TO COLLEGE

20 Years Ago Today Recalled As Start of Mussolini's End

ROME (AP)—"I want to make a mark on history with my will, like a lion with his claws." The words were Benito Mussolini's.

He made his mark. History recalls that he made Italy's trains run on time. History records that he made war a national policy, and history notes that 20 years ago today Benito Mussolini came to the beginning of the end.

That was the day King Victor Emmanuel III put Mussolini under arrest. The shock of Allied landings in Sicily 16 days earlier had been too great for tottering Italy. Its Fascist leadership split. The military stepped in. Field Marshal Pietro Badoglio replaced Mussolini as premier.

German forces freed Mussolini and helped him set up a Fascist republic in northern Italy. The end came on April 28, 1945, when the tommy guns of Italian partisans riddled Mussolini and his mistress, Clara Petacci.

Fascism's flame still burns in Italy. A million and a half Italians voted the Fascist ticket in national elections last April. Thousands of young Fascists still thrill to a street fight with Communists—as their black shirt fathers did 40 years ago.

But the Fascist voter represented only 5 per cent of the electorate, and there is no apparent heir to Mussolini, creator of fascism, whose doctrine inspired Adolf Hitler.

Mussolini came to power in 1922, just before his 40th birthday. Thousands of his followers marched on Rome and forced the king to turn over the government to Mussolini.

Mussolini, once a Socialist himself, said Italy needed a strong and vigorous leader. He took the title Il Duce—the leader.

He replaced Italian parliamentary institutions with what he called a corporate state—an economy of privately owned industry directed by the state through "corporations" of business, labor and government representatives.

In 1936 Mussolini led Italy against Ethiopia. Then came the "stab in the back" against France and World War II.

Mussolini had become Adolf Hitler's partner. It was soon clear Hitler was the dominant partner.

Business Briefs

P. R. Mootz, manager of the Federal Land Bank Assn. of Columbus, has announced plans for his retirement effective August 1.

Succeeding Mootz will be William A. Thomas, the present manager of the Lancaster office.

Mootz announced that Williams will continue his contact point in Circleville each Wednesday in the law offices of J. W. Adkins, 210 S. Court St.

Net income of Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. for the 12 months ended June 30, was $11,614,000 compared with $11,121,000 for the same period in 1962, according to Harry M. Miller, president.

Earnings for the same period amounted to $3.79 per common share based on 2,800,000 shares. Earnings for the corresponding period ending June 30, 1962 were $3.50 per common share.

Operating revenues for the current 12 months were $66,597,000, compared with $62,050,000 in 1962, a 7.3 per cent gain. Operating expenses climbed from $47,455,000 in the previous period to $51,032,000 in the 12 months just ended.

Kilowatt hour sales of 3,119,301,000 were up 8.7 per cent from the previous 12-month period, Mr. Miller said.

Neil House Said Sold For $5 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Negotiations were reported completed today for sale of Columbus' historic downtown Neil House to four Akron men for a reported $5 million.

It was reported that contracts are to be signed next week by representatives of the seller, Archbishop V. J. Sheil of the Chicago Catholic Diocese, and the purchasing group.

At the same time it was reported an extensive remodeling program will begin when title of the hotel is transferred. Akron attorney Ralph Felver identified the new owners as himself, developer A. J. Andreoli; Thomas Dillon, a builder and Daniel Slavin, an accountant, all of Akron.

It was reported that an architectural firm is drafting plans for a $2.5 million modernization effort. The plans include remodeling of dining rooms and reduction of the number of useable guest rooms to 450. It has not been decided whether the hotel will continue to operate during the remodeling. Transfer of ownership is scheduled to become effective Aug. 1.

Astronaut Heat Buildup Problem Said Solved

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Scientists say they think they've beaten the heat buildup problem in astronauts' space suits by using a principle similar to that of the home refrigerator.

The system should be ready late next year for use in the two-man Gemini space capsules when they begin practicing rendezvous in space, say the scientists.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state governors played so safe at their Miami conference it would have been no wonder if they went on record in favor of home, mother and helping old ladies cross the street.

The governors were so anxious to avoid trouble and controversy on any subject that they decided against adopting a resolution on anything.

Thus they saved themselves unpleasant explosions. Democrats outnumbered Republicans 3 to 1 and President Kennedy's Democratic administration had already proposed some things the conference wouldn't go on record for.

The governors wound up:

1. Blocking a Republican effort to get the governors to approve strong civil rights action in this country.
2. Blocking an attempt to get the governors to approve Kennedy's medical care program for older people.

The conference did, however, take a very forceful stand in approving reports of committees on juvenile delinquency, education for the cold war and civil defense.

On these three subjects which can hardly cost any of them a single vote, the governors were unanimous.

Wednesday in Washington Kennedy told delegates from the American Legion's "Boy's Nation" a make-believe federal government—they "showed more initiative in some ways than the Governors' Conference."

The boys, who divided themselves into federalist and nationalist parties in the election they held Wednesday, had strong civil rights planks in their platforms.

presidential candidacy in 1964.

He announced the Republicans had become "the party of civil rights." This was too much for New Jersey's Democratic Gov. Richard Hughes who chided Rockefeller that his announced amount amounted to a "24-hour miracle."

And Michigan's Republican Gov. George Romney, also mentioned as a presidential possibility, swiped at the Kennedy administration, which is trying to get action on a civil rights bill.

He said the administration was trying to use the conference to "propagandize" although it was Rockefeller more than anyone who was urging a civil rights endorsement by the conference.

The conference didn't get any more fierce than this kind of give-and-take. But the governors' caution about taking a stand on anything controversial raises a question about their conferences of which this was the 55th.

Why bother having them at all if they won't take a stand for or against the big national issues?

The conference chairman, Washington's Democratic Gov. Albert D. Rosellini, must have figured someone would ask that.

Earlier this year, months before the conference, he said: "Each governor is independent in his own state and has his own problems. We feel the conference, generally speaking, is more valuable for the exchange of information."

CLEVELAND (AP)—I. J. Fox, Inc., has been penalized $7,000 for fur sales allegedly made without properly describing the furs involved in sales made in 1958 and early 1959.

The penalty was imposed Wednesday under a consent judgment filed in U.S. District Court. Judge Girard E. Kalbfleisch also enjoined the firm, its president, Charles K. "If Bo could only pitch strikes like he pitches woo," says Mamie, "the Angels would have been in first place by now. I think we got What's so great about Gas air conditioning?

There's nothing about a flame to wear out and grow noisy. This is important in considering the total cost of owning any air conditioning. You can hook a whole-house Gas cooling unit right into your forced air Gas furnace and probably use the same ductwork. Or, if you're building, install a single Gas unit that both heats and cools year 'round. The Gas air conditioner actually conditions air—heats, cools, filters, ventilates, dehumidifies and circulates the air in your home. Call the Gas Company for full information and free estimate.

But the Fascist voter represented only 5 per cent of the electorate, and there is no apparent heir to Mussolini, creator of fascism, whose doctrine inspired Adolf Hitler.

Mussolini came to power in 1922, just before his 40th birthday. Thousands of his followers marched on Rome and forced the king to turn over the government to Mussolini.

Mussolini, once a Socialist himself, said Italy needed a strong and vigorous leader. He took the title Il Duce—the leader.

He replaced Italian parliamentary institutions with what he called a corporate state—an economy of privately owned industry directed by the state through "corporations" of business, labor and government representatives.

In 1936 Mussolini led Italy against Ethiopia. Then came the "stab in the back" against France and World War II.

Mussolini had become Adolf Hitler's partner. It was soon clear Hitler was the dominant partner.

They'll Do It Every Time

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The state governors played so safe at their Miami conference it would have been no wonder if they went on record in favor of home, mother and helping old ladies cross the street.

The governors were so anxious to avoid trouble and controversy on any subject that they decided against adopting a resolution on anything.

Thus they saved themselves unpleasant explosions. Democrats outnumbered Republicans 3 to 1 and President Kennedy's Democratic administration had already proposed some things the conference wouldn't go on record for.

The governors wound up: 1. Blocking a Republican effort to get the governors to approve strong civil rights action in this country.

2. Blocking an attempt to get the governors to approve Kennedy's medical care program for older people.

The conference did, however, take a very forceful stand in approving reports of committees on juvenile delinquency, education for the cold war and civil defense.

Wednesday in Washington Kennedy told delegates from the American Legion's "Boy's Nation" — a make-believe federal government — they "showed more initiative in some ways than the Governors' Conference."

The boys, who divided themselves into federalist and nationalist parties in the election they held Wednesday, had strong civil rights planks in their platforms.

Two Republican governors, New York's Nelson A. Rockefeller and Oregon's Mark O. Hatfield, particularly pushed for a strong stand on civil rights. Rockefeller was also probably pushing his own presidential candidacy in 1964.

And Michigan's Republican Gov. George Romney, also mentioned as a presidential possibility, swiped at the Kennedy administration, which is trying to get action on a civil rights bill.

He said the administration was trying to use the conference to "propagandize" although it was Rockefeller more than anyone who was urging a civil rights endorsement by the conference.

The conference didn't get any more fierce than this kind of give-and-take. But the governors' caution about taking a stand on anything controversial raises a question about their conferences of which this was the 55th.

Why bother having them at all if they won't take a stand for or against the big national issues?

The conference chairman, Washington's Democratic Gov. Albert D. Rosellini, must have figured someone would ask that.

Earlier this year, months before the conference, he said: "Each governor is independent in his own state and has his own problems. We feel the conference, generally speaking, is more valuable for the exchange of information."

But the governors have become expert at ducking.

Last year they wouldn't take a stand on medical care, either, and when Southern Democrats began filibustering against even a weak civil rights proposal that was abandoned also.

In 1961 they did, however, adopt a civil rights resolution. It was so watered down that year even the Southern Democrats didn't object. But in 1961 the governors did take a very firm stand in calling for action against communism.

If any governor got any personal benefit out of this year's conference it was probably Rockefeller. He had been in partial political eclipse since his second marriage.

In Miami his strong stand on civil rights got him more prominence and publicity than anyone there. He acted like a man who hadn't given up hope and will soon begin making a lot of speeches.

Jilted Mamie Is 'Through' With Men

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Just say I'm through with men. They're bad for me and I'm bad for them."

Cleveland Firm Pays Penalty in Fur Sales

CLEVELAND (AP)—I. J. Fox, Inc., has been penalized $7,000 for fur sales allegedly made without properly describing the furs involved in sales made in 1958 and early 1959.

The penalty was imposed Wednesday under a consent judgment filed in U.S. District Court. Judge Girard E. Kaibfleisch also enjoined the firm, its president, Charles K. Fox, and its vice president and treasurer, Max Weisman, from making any further sales in violation of the Fur Products Labeling Act.

Other than that, Mamie Van Doren claims she's not the least bit bitter about her busted romance with Bo Belinsky, the Richard Burton of baseball.

The blonde sexpot is back home for the first time since Bo announced he had balked at matrimony with Mamie.

"The first I knew about it was when I read it in the papers," says Mamie. "Bo announced the engagement. I guess I had the right to denounce it."

Since leaving Mamie, Bo is back pitching — baseballs, not woo. He finally reported to Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League where her Los Angeles Angels farmed him last May.

"If Bo could only pitch strikes like he pitches woo," says Mamie, "the Angels would have been in first place by now. I think we got engaged after our first date, know what I mean?"

Definitely shelved is a movie, "Pirate Woman," co-starring Mamie and Bo.

"Bo was to play a swashbuckler pirate. He's got kind of an Errol Flynn flair about him. That's his trouble."

Neil House Said Sold For $5 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Negotiations were reported completed today for sale of Columbus' historic downtown Neil House to four Akron men for a reported $5 million.

It was reported that contracts are to be signed next week by representatives of the seller, Archbishop V. J. Sheil of the Chicago Catholic Diocese, and the purchasing group.

At the same time it was reported that an extensive remodeling program will begin when title of the hotel is transferred. Akron attorney Ralph Felver identified the new owners as himself, developer A. J. Andreoli; Thomas Dillon, a builder and Daniel Slavin, an accountant, all of Akron.

It was reported that an architectural firm is drafting plans for a $2.5 million modernization effort. The plans include remodeling of dining rooms and reduction of the number of useable guest rooms to 450. It has not been decided whether the hotel will continue to operate during the remodeling. Transfer of ownership is scheduled to become effective Aug. 1.

Astronaut Heat Buildup Problem Said Solved

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Scientists say they think they've beaten the heat buildup problem in astronauts' space suits by using a principle similar to that of the home refrigerator.

The system should be ready late next year for use in the two-man Gemini space capsules when they begin practicing rendezvous in space, say the scientists.

Accent Eyes
For Beauty

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Use your eyes if you want to be beautiful. Remember that make-up can make them the focal point of your face.

To our way of thinking, mascara is one of the most important of all cosmetics. It works wonders, especially if lashes are light in color or tend to be sparse.

Mascara gives lashes a luxuriant look. It darkens them dramatically.

Shadow, too, when properly applied, gives splendid results. Choose a shade that will lend allure to your own eye coloring or that will complement the clothes you're wearing.

Remember shadow should never be bold. Keep the application subtle.

Use liner with discretion. If your pencil work shows, it will look artificial. The liner line should be drawn so close to the lashes that it seems at one with them.

Eye-brow pencil should be applied with a feathery touch so strokes look like the real thing.

As a final touch, run a finger over brows to smooth away any harshness of line.

She Deserves Credit

DEAR ABBY: How can you call a woman with a prefabricated family a "mother in the highest form"? That was an insult to true motherhood. What does a woman who has adopted four children know about the joy of first learning that she is to bear a child? What does she know about the beauty of carrying a child under her heart? What does she know about the thrill of a child's first cry? What does she know about the fulfillment of actually giving life?

MOTHER OF FIVE
DEAR MOTHE: Perhaps she knows nothing of the "joy, the beauty, the thrill and the fulfillment" you mention. But don't you think that the woman who asks for the measles, mumps, hear aches, risks, sacrifices and the challenges of rearing a child, with none of the attending blessing of bearing her own, is deserving of special praise? I do.

DEAR ABBY: We have been happily married for one year, and my problem is my wife, when I am driving I have driven over 350,000 safe, accident-free miles in the last nine years. My wife, on the other hand, is a relatively inexperienced driver. However, while I'm driving she is constantly slamming on imaginary brakes and suddenly shouts warnings such as, "Watch out!", "Be careful!", etc. I have come very close to having accidents due to her comments and actions. How can I teach her to have more confidence in my driving?

ALMOST SMASHED
DEAR ALMOST: Unless your wife is given to hallucinations, her comments and actions are an indication that you are not the careful driver you think you are. Be extra careful in the future, and see how relaxed and full of confidence your wife becomes.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a magician and the best in the business. How can I get a job?

MAGICIAN
DEAR MAGICIAN: YOU'RE a magician, and you're asking ME?

DEAR ABBY: I wonder if "disgusted with younger women" is complaining or bragging. She said she raised 14 children without a washing machine. Well, I'd complain. I don't think younger women are lazier. I think they're smarter. After all, MEN manage to provide themselves with all the tools THEY need to make THEIR work easier.

Extra Luxury
Touches for Your Bathroom

By ELEANOR ROSS

Please don't make the mistake of thinking luxury - look bathroom fixtures are necessarily beyond your reach. You will find that many regular stock fixtures actually have that custom-designed look - with no change in the price tags.

If you are planning any building or remodeling, by all means survey the market. You'll discover ready-built tubs, for instance, that fit anywhere without elaborate framing.

There is a new look, too in water faucets. Many are one-piece units designed for proper temperature control and some have push-pull knobs instead of handles. In addition to more graceful designing, there is a wide choice in colors.

And here is something to think about - a new prefabricated heating, lighting and ventilating system that can be easily installed in the ceiling. Such easy luxury!

Also, have a look at the very inexpensive little bathroom appointments that add as much cheer as convenience.

One of these is a wall hanger for drying small items such as hose and lingerie - literally a cluster of swans with spring clips for beaks! These six little swans can hold a lot of pretties to dry or you can put them to work by using their beaks to hold guest towels. Anyway, a pretty and useful item!

Another inexpensive and extremely valuable gadget is an instant wall shower - handy also for places other than the bathroom.

This piece of equipment comes with a five-foot hose which can be connected to a faucet indoors or outdoors and its swivel head has a big suction cup which holds fast to any wall.

Incidentally, this is one good reason, all by itself, for installing an outdoor hot water faucet. Think how much use the whole family would get out of an outdoor shower, come summer!

Wife Preservers

Try powder puffs as shoe-polish applicators. Keep them inside the polish cans, so they won't dry out.

Bring a cup of dark syrup and a quarter cup of butter or margarine to a boil; stir until the mixture blends. Serve hot over French toast or your family's favorite pancakes.

Ever add a dash of curry to French dressing? Interesting flavor!

ANDERSON, Mo. (AP) — Joe Reed's love of beauty led him to revive an almost forgotten skill — rail splitting.

"So far I've split and laid up 130 rails," said Reed, who started the project because he decided the valley where he has a 63-acre farm near here "would be a lot prettier if I had a rail fence across the front."

His only concession to modern times is to use a chain saw to cut logs into nine-foot lengths. Then he splits the logs into rails with an ax.

When you are barbecuing spare ribs in the oven, you may wish to cover the pan during the roasting if so, be sure to uncover the meat about half an hour before done.

Some good cooks like to start a turkey or chicken roasting with the breast down, then turn so that the breast is up during the last half of the roasting period.

Cleveland's
Racial Policy
Is Under Fire

CLEVELAND (AP)—"The Negro is not interested in recitations on how far he has come since 1863 but rather how far he has to go in 1963," says an official of a civil rights group.

The old methods of manipulating the Negro, by satisfying his minimal needs and stultifying his ambitions, no longer will hold back the tide of volcanic impatience," said Harold B. Williams.

Williams, executive secretary of the Cleveland branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was one of three speakers Wednesday at the City Club's Midweek Forum. All discussed the civil rights problem.

Williams described Cleveland as the "most racially segregated metropolitan area in the United States."

"Cleveland's major lending institutions still follow a policy of not making loans to Negroes who otherwise qualify, if they are the first to attempt to purchase on a street," he charged.

Other speakers were the Rev. W. C. Have McCracken, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Cleveland, and Dr. Nathan E. Cohen, dean of the School of Applied Sciences at Western Reserve University.

Mr. Fowler is a graduate of Ashville High School and is presently employed by the Hercules Box Co. in Columbus.

The open church wedding will be an event of Sept. 14 at 2:30 p. m. in the Ashville EUB Church.

For Beauty

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Use your eyes if you want to be beautiful. Remember that make up can make them the focal point of your face.

To our way of thinking, mascara is one of the most important of all cosmetics. It works wonders, especially if lashes are light in color or tend to be sparse.

Mascara gives lashes a luxuriant look. It darkens them dramatically.

Shadow, too, when properly applied, gives splendid results. Choose a shade that will lend allure to your own eye coloring or that will complement the clothes you're wearing.

Remember shadow should never be bold. Keep the application subtle.

Use liner with discretion. If your pencil work shows, it will look artificial. The liner line should be drawn so close to the lashes that it seems at one with them.

Eyebrow pencil should be applied with a feathery touch so strokes look like the real thing.

As a final touch, run a finger over brows to smooth away any harshness of line.

She Deserves Credit

DEAR ABBY: How can you call a woman with a prefabricated family a "mother in the highest form"? That was an insult to true motherhood. What does a woman who has adopted four children know about the joy of first learning that she is to bear a child? What does she know about the beauty of carrying a child under her heart? What does she know about the thrill of a child's first cry? What does she know about the fulfillment of actually giving life?

MOTHER OF FIVE
DEAR MOTHE: Perhaps she knows nothing of the "joy, the beauty, the thrill and the fulfillment" you mention. But don't you think that the woman who asks for the measles, mumps, hear aches, risks, sacrifices and the challenges of rearing a child, with none of the attending blessing of bearing her own, is deserving of special praise? I do.

DEAR ABBY: We have been happily married for one year, and my problem is my wife, when I am driving I have driven over 350,000 safe, accident-free miles in the last nine years. My wife, on the other hand, is a relatively inexperienced driver. However, while I'm driving she is constantly slamming on imaginary brakes and suddenly shouts warnings such as, "Watch out! Be careful!" etc. I have come very close to having accidents due to her comments and actions. How can I teach her to have more confidence in my driving?

ALMOST SMASHED
DEAR ALMOST: Unless your wife is given to hallucinations, her comments and actions are an indication that you are not the careful driver you think you are. Be extra careful in the future, and see how relaxed and full of confidence your wife becomes.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a magician and the best in the business. How can I get a job?

MAGICIAN
DEAR MAGICIAN: YOU'RE a magician, and you're asking ME?

DEAR ABBY: I wonder if "disgusted with younger women" is complaining or bragging. She said she raised 14 children without a washing machine. Well, I'd complain. I don't think younger women are lazier. I think they're smarter. After all, MEN manage to provide themselves with all the tools THEY need to make THEIR work easier.

UNDERWATER 'MIKE'—Alexandra Devers examines a hydrophone, a device for detecting sound in the deepest part of the sea, at the Paramus, N. J., plant of ACF Electronics. Sound traveling through water is picked up by the rubber-covered bottom half of the device and sent to a listening post by the attached cable.

Extra Luxury
Touches for Your Bathroom

By ELEANOR ROSS

Please don't make the mistake of thinking luxury - look bathroom fixtures are necessarily beyond your reach. You will find that many regular stock fixtures actually have that custom-designed look - with no change in the price tags.

If you are planning any building or remodeling, by all means survey the market. You'll discover ready-built tubs, for instance, that fit anywhere without elaborate framing.

There is a new look, too in water faucets. Many are one-piece units designed for proper temperature control and some have push-pull knobs instead of handles. In addition to more graceful designing, there is a wide choice in colors.

And here is something to think about - a new prefabricated heating, lighting and ventilating system that can be easily installed in the ceiling. Such easy luxury!

Also, have a look at the very inexpensive little bathroom appointments that add as much cheer as convenience.

One of these is a wall hanger for drying small items such as hose and lingerie - literally a cluster of swans with spring clips for beaks! These six little swans can hold a lot of pretties to dry or you can put them to work by using their beaks to hold guest towels.

Another inexpensive and extremely valuable gadget is an instant wall shower - handy also for places other than the bathroom. This piece of equipment comes with a five-foot hose which can be connected to a faucet indoors or outdoors and its swivel head has a big suction cup which holds fast to any wall.

Incidentally, this is one good reason, all by itself, for installing an outdoor hot water faucet. Think how much use the whole family would get out of an outdoor shower, come summer!

Wife Preservers

Try powder puffs as shoe-polish applicators. Keep them inside the polish cans, so they won't dry out.

Bring a cup of dark syrup and a quarter cup of butter or margarine to a boil; stir until the mixture blends. Serve hot over French toast or your family's favorite pancakes.

Ever add a dash of curry to French dressing? Interesting flavor!

MARILYN JEAN MAHONEY

Miss Mahoney
Is Engaged to Mr. Scranton

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mahoney Jr., Mentor, O., are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marilyn Jean, to Mr. L. Robert Scranton, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Scranton, 940 S. Pickaway St.

Miss Mahoney is a graduate of Mentor High School. She is a senior in the College of Education at Ohio Northern University and will teach in the elementary grades in the Circleville City Schools this fall.

Mr. Scranton is a graduate of Circleville High School and Ohio Northern University. College of Pharmacy. He is an employee of Bingham Drugs.

The open church wedding will be 2 p. m. Aug. 11 in the Trinity Lutheran Church, Circleville.

Like Lincoln

ANDERSON, Mo. (AP) — Joe Reed's love of beauty led him to revive an almost forgotten skill — rail splitting.

"So far I've split and laid up 130 rails," said Reed, who started the project because he decided the valley where he has a 63-acre farm near here "would be a lot prettier if I had a rail fence across the front."

His only concession to modern times is to use a chain saw to cut logs into nine-foot lengths. Then he splits the logs into rails with an ax.

When you are barbecuing spare ribs in the oven, you may wish to cover the pan during the roasting if so, be sure to uncover the meat about half an hour before done.

Some good cooks like to start a turkey or chicken roasting with the breast down, then turn so that the breast is up during the last half of the roasting period.

Cleveland's
Racial Policy
Is Under Fire

CLEVELAND (AP)—"The Negro is not interested in recitations on how far he has come since 1863 but rather how far he has to go in 1963," says an official of a civil rights group.

The old methods of manipulating the Negro, by satisfying his minimal needs and stultifying his ambitions, no longer will hold back the tide of volcanic impatience," said Harold B. Williams.

Williams, executive secretary of the Cleveland branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was one of three speakers Wednesday at the City Club's Midweek Forum. All discussed the civil rights problem.

Williams described Cleveland as the "most racially segregated metropolitan area in the United States."

"Cleveland's major lending institutions still follow a policy of not making loans to Negroes who otherwise qualify, if they are the first to attempt to purchase on a street," he charged.

Other speakers were the Rev. W. C. Have McCracken, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Cleveland, and Dr. Nathan E. Cohen, dean of the School of Applied Sciences at Western Reserve University.

BLIND HERO — William Schmidt, 29, San Gabriel, Calif., school teacher, gets a kiss from his daughter, Peggy, 3, whom he saved from drowning in the family pool. He is blind, but, guided by instructions from his wife, a poor swimmer, he located Peggy on the bottom of the deep end, carried her out and revived her with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

'Huskie Muskie' Club Gets Queen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Move over, men, and make room for a lady on that "Huskie Muskie" throne.

Mrs. Evalene S. Clow of Sherrodsville (Carroll County, population 480) is Ohio's new piscatorial queen.

She caught a 48 1/2-inch, 28-pound 7-ounce muskie July 10 at Leesville Lake—and no mere male has hooked and landed anything approaching it. Her massive muskie is the state's biggest of the year.

Several men caught some large ones this month, too, among them Sol Flickinger of Canton (38 1/2-inch), and William C. Donley, Jr., of Lancaster (45 inches.) They used such things as red-eye spoons and bombers, but Mrs. Clow shunned such artificial lures. She caught the big one on a crawfish—and did it at 10:30 a.m., usually one of the poorer fishing hours.

The state wildlife division suggests you try Camden Lake a 10-acre peat bog and glacial ice-blocked bit of water in Loraan County, if you are looking for some good fishing.

Some giant red-eared sunfish, along with bluegills, bass, bullheads and crappies, are hitting well there, but the anglers are neglecting the spot.

"The lake needs more fishermen," said Dan Armbruster, the district fish management supervisor.

A total of 7,400 day-old ring-necked pheasants have been distributed to southwestern Ohio sportsmen clubs this year, and the same organizations will receive 1,700 six-week-old ones in the near future. The Tri-Bird Club of Champaign County received the greater number, assuring good shooting in that area.

If you are caught without a fishing license, just pay up and shut up.

That's the advice of the Wildlife Division's enforcement supervisor, Eldon Sturgeon.

Sturgeon said the department has a policy of allowing fishermen time to produce their license, if they claim to have one. Some have gone to friendly licensing agencies to obtain back-dated permits.

Invariably, Sturgeon said, the violation is detected and the arresting officers has three charges instead of one, to file. The agency is fined for back-dating a license and loses its agency, the angler is fined for fishing without a license and for swearing to a false statement.

A four-legged ring-necked pheasant was hatched recently at the wildlife farm near Urbana.

Ed Nash, veteran superintendent, said:

"This is the first four-legged chick I remember. We have hatched them with three legs, two heads, and three or four wings—and usually the freaks don't live long enough to grow feathers."

This one died, too, but is being preserved for further study.

The August issue of the Ohio Conservation Bulletin contains an article on "How to Catch an Ohio Muskie", in which some of the state's top anglers divulge their secrets. Methods are listed for river and lake fishing, proper equipment is discussed, and a complete list of Ohio's better muskie fishing spots is offered. Casting, trolling and bait fishing principles are outlined.

Akron To Launch Own Flying Police

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Akron Police plan to take to the skies in their enforcement of speed limits on expressways in the city.

The plan is the idea of Robert Prease, a World War II bomber pilot who now is a captain in charge of the Traffic Bureau. Prease plans to use the four-seat light plane he bought recently, and he says he will foot the bill for gasoline—about $3.60 an hour—to get the program started.

Warning signs at spots along the 10 miles of expressway will let motorists know Prease or one of his men may be up there looking on with a stop watch.

A cruiser on the ground will be in communication with the plane, ready to arrest speeders.

Spectators Boo London Call Girl

Egg-Throwing Marks Vice Trial in Britain

LONDON (AP)—Spectators threw two eggs at Christine Keeler and booed her angrily today when she left the old Bailey court after giving further testimony in the Stephen Ward vice trial.

One egg hit a news photographer on the head. The second splashed on the sleeve of a policeman.

Miss Keeler hurriedly entered a taxicab and drove away.

A crowd of several hundred milled around outside the court building when Christine—the 21-year-old play-for-pay girl who caused John D. Profumo to resign last month as Britain's minister of war—tripped down the steps at the luncheon adjournment.

Women hissed and there were shouted insults.

The photographer who accidentally became an egghead was Bob Dear of The Associated Press.

Christine had been recalled by defense counsel James Burge for questioning about her use of marijuana, a narcotic smoked in cigarettes. She had touched on that in her first appearance in the witness box Monday.

Today she testified that Ward had introduced her to marijuana in 1961 when she was living at one of his flats.

Ward has pleaded innocent to three counts of living off the proceeds of prostitution and two of procuring. Conviction could bring up to 25 years in prison.

COMMIE HEAD HERE—Arriving in Chicago after a flight from London, William Gallacher, 81, head of the British Communist Party, waves at O'Hare Airport in Chicago. He refused to answer most of the newsmen's questions. Gallacher was granted a "compassionate" visa by the U.S. so he could visit his ailing sister, arthritic Mrs. Agnes Wilson, 75.

22 Beauties Seek To Be 'Miss Ohio'

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The current "Miss America," Jacqueline Mayer of Sandusky, got her start here last year at the Miss Ohio Pageant—and today 22 more beauties are gathering in Mansfield for another pageant on which they pin high hopes.

One of the 22 will be selected "Miss Ohio" Saturday night in the competition finals sponsored by the Mansfield Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Ohio Theater. The current Miss Ohio is Bonnie Ann Gawronski of Toledo.

Competing for the Miss Ohio title will be:

Margaret A. Emerson, 18, Akron; Susan Elizabeth Roberts, 19, Ashland; Molly Beth Whyte, 19, Dayton; Janis Ann Bloom, 19, Ashtabula; Mary Ann Demare, 18, Niles; Betty Jean Smith, 20, Toledo.

Also, Bes-Arlene Crase, 22, Hamilton; Catherine Lee Hays, 18, Bryan; Salley Ann Shrader, 21, Elmore; Mary Jo House, 17, Dayton; Patricia Ann Horvath, 18, Medina; Devonah Long, 18, Marion; Ellawayne Sue Wrede, 18, Willard; and Karen Sue Purviance New Concord.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Skies were clear over Ohio Wednesday night, and by dawn today temperatures were mostly in the 60s. Chesapeake reported 62, Columbus 65 and Akron 68.

Considerable ground fog formed, reducing the visibility to zero at Marietta this morning.

Fair, dry weather will continue over Ohio today, tonight and Friday as an extensive high pressure system covers the eastern portion of the country.

High temperatures today and Friday will be mostly in the upper 80s or low 90s.

On Lake Erie winds will be light and afternoon temperatures in the 80s.

Good-Risk Convicts

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—State penal authorities report success with their new Reasonable Assurance Release Program.

The plan allows good-risk convicts to be paroled even if no job is immediately forthcoming. A sponsor is needed—someone to furnish room and board for up to 45 days while the inmate seeks employment.

Of 39 convicts released in the past few months, officials say, only two have been returned.

Fish Truck Is Robbed

Dancer Faces Questions in Vice Hearing

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Juanita Hodges returns to the witness stand in U. S. District Court today for more cross-examination as to why she was "afraid to tell the truth" in a Newport Police Court trial on charges stemming from her arrest in a hotel room with Campbell County Sheriff George Ratterman more than two years ago.

Miss Hodges is a key witness in the trial of six men — including three Newport policemen — on charges of having violated Ratterman's civil rights. At the time of Miss Hodges' arrest, May 9, 1961, Ratterman was a reform ticket candidate for sheriff and was pledged to rid Campbell County of gambling and vice.

Miss Hodges is a strip-tease dancer under the stage name April Flowers.

Ratterman has contended he was drugged and framed on the night of the arrest as part of a campaign to discredit his candidacy.

Defendants in the trial are Newport Police Chief Upshere White, police detectives Pat Ciardini and Joseph Quittner; Tito Ceasini, Edward Buccieri and Charles E. Lester.

Native Son Plans To Aid Greene County

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Years ago, John Glossinger left Greene County to seek his fortune. Today, he has it—and Greene County is getting part of it.

Glossinger, who celebrates his 95th birthday Saturday with a party in a Dayton hotel, came from New York on his annual summer visit back home. This time, he announced he is giving $20,000 to the County Historical Society.

Dr. W. A. Hammond of Yellow Springs, society president, said said the money would go to purchase property which will be used as the site of the proposed museum and cultural center.

Glossinger explained, "I just felt I should do something for Greene County since it's the place of my birth. I want to see my money at work and I especially want to see a county historical museum set up soon."

Glossinger made his career as a supersalesman. He is best remembered for helping establish the "Oh Henry!" candy bar as one of America's big sellers.

The plan is the idea of Robert Prease, a World War II bomber pilot who now is a captain in charge of the Traffic Bureau. Prease plans to use the four-seat light plane he bought recently, and he says he will foot the bill for gasoline—about $3.60 an hour—to get the program started.

Warning signs at spots along the 10 miles of expressway will let motorists know Prease or one of his men may be up there looking on with a stop watch.

A cruiser on the ground will be in communication with the plane, ready to arrest speeders.

Egg-Throwing Marks Vice Trial in Britain

LONDON (AP)—Spectators threw two eggs at Christine Keeler and booed her angrily today when she left the old Bailey court after giving further testimony in the Stephen Ward vice trial.

One egg hit a news photographer on the head. The second splashed on the sleeve of a policeman.

Miss Keeler hurriedly entered a taxicab and drove away.

A crowd of several hundred milled around outside the court building when Christine—the 21-year-old play-for-pay girl who caused John D. Profumo to resign last month as Britain's minister of war—tripped down the steps at the luncheon adjournment.

Women hissed and there were shouted insults.

The photographer who accidentally became an egghead was Bob Dear of The Associated Press.

Christine had been recalled by defense counsel James Burge for questioning about her use of marijuana, a narcotic smoked in cigarettes. She had touched on that in her first appearance in the witness box Monday.

Today she testified that Ward had introduced her to marijuana in 1961 when she was living at one of his flats.

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The current "Miss America," Jacqueline Mayer of Sandusky, got her start here last year at the Miss Ohio pageant—and today 22 more beauties are gathering in Mansfield for another pageant on which they pin high hopes.

One of the 22 will be selected "Miss Ohio" Saturday night in the competition finals sponsored by the Mansfield Junior Chamber of Commerce in the Ohio Theater. The current Miss Ohio is Bonnie Ann Gawronski of Toledo.

Competing for the Miss Ohio title will be:

Margaret A. Emerson, 18, Akron; Susan Elizabeth Roberts, 19, Ashland; Molly Beth Whyte, 19, Dayton; Janis Ann Bloom, 19, Ashtabula; Mary Ann Demare, 18, Niles; Betty Jean Smith, 20, Toledo.

Also, Bes-Arlene Crase, 22, Hamilton; Catherine Lee Hays, 18, Bryan; Salley Ann Shrader, 21, Elmore; Mary Jo House, 17, Dayton; Patricia Ann Horvath, 18, Medina; Devonah Long, 18, Marion; Ellawayne Sue Wrede, 18, Willard; and Karen Sue Purviance New Concord.

COMMIE HEAD HERE—Arriving in Chicago after a flight from London, William Gallacher, 81, head of the British Communist Party, waves at O'Hare Airport in Chicago. He refused to answer most of the newsmen's questions. Gallacher was granted a "compassionate" visa by the U.S. so he could visit his ailing sister, arthritis Mrs. Agnes Wilson, 75.

Dancer Faces Questions in Vice Hearing

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Juanita Hodges returns to the witness stand in U.S. District Court today for more cross-examination as to why she was "afraid to tell the truth" in a Newport Police Court trial on charges stemming from her arrest in a hotel room with Campbell County Sheriff George Ratterman more than two years ago.

Miss Hodges is a key witness in the trial of six men—including three Newport policemen—on charges of having violated Ratterman's civil rights. At the time of Miss Hodges' arrest, May 9, 1961, Ratterman was a reform ticket candidate for sheriff and was pledged to rid Campbell County of gambling and vice.

Miss Hodges is a strip-tease dancer under the stage name April Flowers.

Ratterman has contended he was drugged and framed on the night of the arrest as part of a campaign to discredit his candidacy.

Native Son Plans To Aid Greene County

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Years ago, John Glossinger left Greene County to seek his fortune. Today, he has it—and Greene County is getting part of it.

Glossinger, who celebrates his 95th birthday Saturday with a party in a Dayton hotel, came from New York on his annual summer visit back home. This time, he announced he is giving $20,000 to the County Historical Society.

Dr. W. A. Hammond of Yellow Springs, society president, said said the money would go to purchase property which will be used as the site of the proposed museum and cultural center.

Glossinger explained, "I just felt I should do something for Greene County since it's the place of my birth. I want to see my money at work and I especially want to see a county historical museum set up soon."

Glossinger made his career as a supersalesman. He is best remembered for helping establish the "Oh Henry" candy bar as one of America's big sellers.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Skies were clear over Ohio Wednesday night, and by dawn today temperatures were mostly in the 60s. Chesapeake reported 62, Columbus 65 and Akron 68.

Considerable ground fog formed, reducing the visibility to zero at Marietta this morning.

Fair, dry weather will continue over Ohio today, tonight and Friday as an extensive high pressure system covers the eastern portion of the country.

High temperatures today and Friday will be mostly in the upper 80s or low 90s.

On Lake Erie winds will be light and afternoon temperatures in the 80s.

Good-Risk Convicts

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—State penal authorities report success with their new Reasonable Assurance Release Program.

The plan allows good-risk convicts to be paroled even if no job is immediately forthcoming. A sponsor is needed—someone to furnish room and board for up to 45 days while the inmate seeks employment.

Of 39 convicts released in the past few months, officials say, only two have been returned.

GARDEN VET — An old hand with vegetables, Tom Boyer here examines his cabbage rows. The large garden maintained solely by Boyer provides vegetables for eating, canning, freezing and giving away. Note the big sunflowers which serve as stakes for King of the Garden Lima beans. Boyer knows all the ins and outs of growing good vegetables.

LOGAN ELM JUNIOR — Here is Mrs. Tom Boyer, S. Washington St., with her elm tree. It is actually a branch of the original Logan Elm from the wreckage of the tree after a storm hit it several years ago. Mrs. Boyer stuck a small branch of the tree in the soil of her backyard. It grew and is now a flourishing 6½-ft. elm. Mrs. Boyer would like to see it growing in its original home at Logan Elm Park. And she will give it to any organization which will undertake its transplanting.

Beagles, Poetry Prominent Too

The Tom Boyers Raise All Sorts Of Dandy Crops

Recently we went to the Tom Boyer home at 1095 S. Washington St., to see the little elm tree that Mrs. Boyer had salvaged from the wreckage when the big storm hit Pickaway County's famous Logan Elm and all but destroyed it.

We found a fine little 6½-foot tree, a front yard filled with flowers grown by Mrs. Boyer and a vegetable garden second to none in the area. The vegetables are grown by Tom Boyer who is not only an excellent gardener but a poet and philosopher — homespun type.

First we found out about the elm. Mrs. Boyer had simply taken a small branch from the wrecked elm, stuck it in the soil in her backyard, kept it watered and watched it grow. Mrs. Boyer would like to see the young elm back at its real home in Logan Elm Park. And if an organization will arrange to have it planted there, she will be glad to donate it for that purpose.

Mrs. Boyer has flowers around the porch, along the front fence, beside the house and even on the porch. She has dahlias, roses, glads, cornflowers, touch-me-nots, perennials, verbena, petunias, coral honeysuckle, hibiscus, pansies and pinks.

ALL THESE are in front. And that's because Tom Boyer takes over in the back with an enormous vegetable garden and beagle hounds. The hounds have a small area near the doghouse and they do not bother either the flowers or vegetables.

Tom Boyer has a sizeable strawberry patch. This spring he harvested 4269 quarts of berries by actual count. He has a fine stand of sweet corn. His cabbages average a foot in diameter. He has peppers, bibb lettuce, onions and green beans.

He utilizes all his space and when one crop has been harvested he plants something else. His cucumbers grow now where his early green beans were planted. He has pumpkins and sunflowers. Growing up the big stalks of the sunflowers are King of Garden Lima beans.

In order to discourage cabbage butterflies, he strung newspapers on a line along the cabbage rows. The butterflies, while still in evidence, were made to feel unwelcome.

Mr. Boyer uses old fashioned garden remedies. He sprinkles lime on his vegetables to discourage pests. And he is not averse to using the deadly arsenate of lead if insects get to chewing with too much verve.

The Boyers have grapes, a peach tree, two cherry trees and two plum trees. The tomatoes started to ripen about July 4. And there will be an excellent tomato crop.

INCIDENTALLY, the Boyers have raised more important crops than vegetables and flowers. They had 11 children, 10 of whom are living. They have 36 grandchildren and 29 great grandchildren. And at any time now, this last crop may show an increase of two.

Tom Boyer keeps his garden weed-free with his trusty cultivator. While he works in the garden he dreams up his verses. He has some 250 poems — some of which have been published.

We quote one poem (not in its entirety) to show this gardener's wholesome philosophy and his flare for rhyming.

The poem entitled "Thank You, Dear Lord" follows:

We thank you for the flowers,

Noted Rosarian Of Chillicothe Writes Book

Harold H. Allen, rose exhibitor of Chillicothe has written a book — and we add, a most readable book, "Roses — Growing for Exhibiting."

Allen, who recently addressed the Pickaway County Garden Club, brought along copies of his book which he autographed for buyers. The club purchased a copy and has presented it to the public library here.

Unlike most garden books, which are actually reference publications and might be hard to read from cover to cover, Allen's book on roses makes for easy, delightful and amusing reading. And it is most informative, for the author knows his roses from A to Z.

Yes, he has lists and instructions and diagrams like all good garden books, but these he mixes with his funny comments which will appeal to all gardeners — rosarians or not.

THE AUTHOR tells in detail how to grow roses for show and how to groom an exhibit them. He fuses garden roses, too, as well as show roses. An area authority on roses, what he writes should be particularly apropos to this locality.

Best of all, the author leaves no one guessing about the work involved in showing roses. If you have a yen to compete with big wheel rosarians this book will tell you what you're up against. It gives all the necessary "how-to" information.

And if you just want to have good garden roses you can't miss if you follow the author's excellent advice.

Don't forget, this book is in your public library. You may want "roses — Growing for Exhibiting" for your own bookcase. Remember that Chillicothe is only a hop, skip and jump from Circleville and if you want an autographed copy Harold H. Allen is not hard to find.

Gas Tax Distribution Tops Year Ago Figure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's July distribution of gasoline tax money, first of the new fiscal year, amounted to $5,992,757, up $549,768 over the same period last year, it was reported today by Auditor Roger W. Tracy.

Largest share of the distribution, $3,172,757, went to the municipalities with counties sharing in another $1,760,000 at the rate of $20,000 per county, and the 1,325 townships getting $800 each.

Dear Lord,
We thank You for the trees,
We thank You for the earth,
Dear Lord,
And for the deep blue seas.
We thank You for the stars,
Dear Lord,
That guide us from above.
We thank Thee for Thy mercy,
Lord

And all Your tender Love,
Now take us by the hand, dear Lord,
And help us to keep true,
For nature and its beauty, Lord,
We give our thanks to You.

Gladiolus Show Is Scheduled For July 27-28 at Kingwood

The 8th annual gladiolus show at Kingwood Center, Mansfield, sponsored by the Ohio State Gladiolus Society, is to be held on July 27 and 28. The show will be open to the public July 27 from 2 to 9 p. m. and July 28, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Anyone who is interested in gladiolus, whether amateur or professional is eligible to enter the show. One need not be a member of a gladiolus society or a garden club to exhibit. Assistance will be given to those unfamiliar with exhibiting gladiolus.

Except in the Arrangement division, all blooms must have been grown by the exhibitor. Any number of entries may be made in any specimen class provided each entry is of a different variety.

Entries close at 10:30 a. m. EST, on July 27. A schedule containing complete information on show rules, awards, divisions, etc., is available by writing Kingwood Center, Mansfield, Ohio.

THERE ARE five divisions in the show — Novice, Open, Recent Introductions, Seedlings, Arrangements and a special class for children. In the arrangements, gladiolus must be the predominating material; however, other materials, living or non-living, may be used.

This year a special gladiolus judging school will be held in conjunction with the show on July 7 at 3 p. m. EST in Kingwood Hall.

In addition to ribbons, gift awards of gladiolus bulbs will be given in the various classes.

A Kingwood Center Trophy will be awarded to the Novice Champion Gladiolus Spike and an Ohio State Gladiolus Society Medal will be given in the Novice Sweepstakes on the basis of points.

The novice class is for persons who grow gladiolus as a hobby and do not derive a significant income from them.

A novice grower may exhibit in this division for three years provided he has not won a novice champion award. One, two, three spikes of a variety may be entered and the best spike will be judged.

Garden Gossip

Gracious Sakes Alive! We thought we had muskrats in our pond. A recent visitor suggested that we may be plagued with nutrias, those imported rodents from South America which are supposed to have such fine fur!

They are now in the Chillicothe area. Nutrias propagate at a great rate, gobble up vegetation and tunnel under vast areas.

Well, on to better things. Mrs. Hillis Hall, Sunshine St., is most successful in wintering over and propagating the lovely passion flower vine. It is in a protected area and comes up year after year.

Well, all is not lost as far as the green bean crop is concerned. George Justice of Whisler harvested two bushels from two rows in his garden.

The Joe Stumps have canned 60 quarts of green beans from their garden. Mrs. Stump was wishing for a rain because her cucumbers are beginning to bear.

Mrs. Turney Pontius had pink water lilies blooming in her pond last week. She had a funny story to tell about how she managed to get a pond for water lilies when it was not too popular a project within the family.

Tom Boyer, S. Washington St., has an interesting poem about his last hunt. We asked Mrs. Boyer if he had indeed given up hunting. She says her grandchildren, having read the poem which is imprinted on the gun case, asked the same question. She believes, since he has his beagles that he'll still hunt some.

Mrs. Lloyd Petty and myself have been watching with curiosity a certain plant in her flower border. It has turned out to be the wild moth mullein. This is a graceful stately spike with flowers along it that fade in the afternoon. It would add to a garden we believe.

Mrs. Joe Goeller, Route 4, Circleville, was doing some plant watering the day before the rain.

Miss Doris Allen's hanging baskets are as full of color as usual. This is an annual project at the Allen home. And the baskets are at their best from now until frost.

The Henn place at 512 E. Main St., always has seasonal bloom. Flowers grow around the foundation from early spring until frost.

The Clarence Whaley at 536 Northridge Road always have a beautifully groomed yard. And they have lots of color. They excel when it comes to petunias. Many other things, too!

Mrs. Jo Eagleson, N. Pickaway St., once told me that double altheas were short on bloom. I have observed that she is correct in many instances.

The Emmitt Barnharts have pale lavender and white bergamot in bloom along their driveway.

Bergamot does not stay within bounds, but it adds definitely to a late June and July garden. There is salmon, purple, white and lavender.

Mrs. Nelson Bower has a fine daylily collection. She lives at Route 1, Circleville.

Mrs. Ed Wallace, N. Court St., is well pleased with her double gloriosa daisy. It reseeded from a couple of plants that she had last year.

Mrs. Wallace's daylilies and phlox are blooming now, too. Her daylily collection is largely made up of McVicker hybrids.

Franklin McVicker near William sport is our local daylily hybridizer. Mrs. Ed Fetherolf and I pur chased a root of bright red variety from McVicker several years ago.

'Summer Fun' General Theme For Fair's 1963 Posie Shows

Ever striving towards fresher posies at the Pickaway County Fair Flower Show, chairman Mrs. Harry Kerns and her committee have planned three different flower shows.

On Tuesday, July 30 the theme will be "Summertime Fun" — "Travel". There will be 10 classes in the arrangement division, four in the houseplant section and ten classes for specimen flowers.

On Wednesday, July 31, junior exhibitors will have their show, the theme of which is "Summertime Fun in the County." There will be five artistic classes for juniors and four specimen classes.

The last show is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 1. Its theme is "Summertime Fun at the County Fair." There are 10 classes in the artistic division and 10 classes in the specimen division and four in the houseplant section.

IN CONNECTION with the flower show, there is an organizational project for which each participating organization will receive $10. This is to be a "Garden Spot" and is to occupy a space six feet square. The "garden" is to be set up by 6 p. m. Monday, July 29. These projects will not be judged competitively.

Cash awards will be given to ribbon winners. In the artistic divisions and in the houseplant divisions of the adult shows the first prize will be $2; the second prize, $1.50 and the third prize, $1. Prizes in the specimen classes will be $1 for first place; 50 cents for second place and 25 cents for third place.

Junior winners will receive $1 for first prize; 50 cents for second and 25 cents for third.

A special award of $5 will be given the individual winning the greatest number of points on artistic exhibits.

Another special award of $2 will be given to the individual winning the greatest number of points on specimens. And still a third special award will be given the individual winning the greatest number of points on houseplants. This award will be $2.

Points for the special awards will be determined as follows: five points for a blue ribbon; three points for a red ribbon and one point for a white ribbon.

MRS. Kern's assisting committee includes Mrs. Herman Porter, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. John L. Beck, Miss Florence Brown, Mrs. Turney Pontius, Mrs. Charles Flemming and William L. Cook. All county garden club presidents are included as members of the committee.

The July 30 flower show is: 1. Zinnia, large flowered, three indi-

It bloomed in both our gardens this summer.

The Logan Elm Garden Club has decided to have its annual flower show in September rather than in July. The upcoming County Fair Flower Show was one reason for the change of date.

Mrs. John G. Heffner, 158 W. High St., has a fine planting of magenta phlox at her place.

We stopped by to tell Mrs. Heffner we liked her flowers (she always has something in blossom) the day "The General" came to town. It was hot as the dickens and Mrs. Heffner's patio in back looked most inviting. She has her ferns and hanging baskets on the patio.

vidual blooms. 2. Zinnia, fantasy, three individual blooms. 3. Marigold, African, three individual blooms. 4. Snapdragons, any variety, any color, three stems. 5. Gladiolus, large type, ruffled, any color, one spike. 6. Gladiolus, large type, plain, any color, one spike. 7. Celosia feathery type, one stem. 8. Dahlia, pompon, any color, three individual blooms. 9. Asters, double, any color, three individual blooms. 10. Roses, Floribunda, any color, three stems.

In the artistic division of the first flower show classes are: 1. "Vacation Travel" — your own imagination. 2. "Here and There" — your own interpretation. 3. "Highway Inn" and arrangement using red flowers. 4. "Goin' Fishin'" — water as part of the design. 5. "Suntan" — an arrangement in a bottle. 6. "Mountain Tour" a Hogarth curve. 7. "Moon Magic" — a crescent arrangement — using yellow flowers. 8. "Baseball Crowd" — a mass arrangement. 9. "Prayer for a Safe Journey" — a religious theme. 10. "Straight Home" — A vertical design.

The houseplant section includes: 1. African violets, 2. Begonias, 3. Vines, 4. Succulents.

The junior gardeners will have four specimen classes on Wednesday, 1. Zinnias, large flowered, any color, three individual blooms, 2. Zinnias, small flowered any color, three individual blooms. 3. Marigolds, African, three individual blooms. 4. Marigolds, French, five individual blooms.

The artistic classes for juniors are: 1. "Grandmother's Kitchen" — using red geraniums. 2. "Early Riser" a vertical arrangement. 3. "Helping Grandfather" — an arrangement incorporating a toy farm tool. 4. "Farm Pond" an arrangement using water as part of the design. 5. "Barn Dance", your own interpretation.

The second of the adult shows set for August 1 will include the following specimen classes: 1. Zinnias, small pompon, three individual blooms. 2. Marigolds, French, five individual blooms. 3. Gladiolus, miniature, any color, three spikes. 4. Cosmos, any color, three individual blooms. 5. Roses, tea, any color, three individual blooms. 6. Roses, grandiflora, any color, three stems. 7. Calendula, any color, three individual blooms. 8. Scelosia, crested type, any color, one stem. 9. dahlia, large type (8 inches or over) any color, one bloom. 10. Asters, single, any color, three individual blooms.

ARTISTIC classes for the August 1 show are: 1. "It's a Big Fair" — an abstract design. 2. "The Midway" — your own interpretation. 3. "Band Festival" — depicting rhythm. 4. Rocket Ride" — using red flowers. 5. "The Race Track" — your own interpretation. 6. "Bring Along $$$" — Hogarth curve. 7. "Two Flower Shows" — identical arrangements. 8. "Clown on Stilts" — a vertical arrangement. 9. "Something to Crow

In Thursday's houseplant section classes are: 1. Tropical plant. 2. Ferns. 3. Variegated foliage. 4. Best Plant of Any Variety.

Rules governing the flower shows are: Classes are open to any resident of Circleville, Pickaway County or Shopping area who wishes to exhibit. Entries are limited one to a class. Exhibits must be entered before noon the day of the show. No exhibit may compete in more than one class. Exhibits not meeting qualifications will be disqualified by the judge.

All entries will be judged with the exception of the organizational project. All entries will be turned over to members of the staging committee who will place them in a class. Exhibits must be accepted unless an entry ticket is attached.

An arrangement is to be interpreted as cut plant material in a suitable container. Accessories are optional. Artistic arrangements may contain foreign foliage. Please do not use any accessories or materials that cannot be left with the entry until specified time of removal.

Premiums may be withheld at the direction of the Pickaway County Fair Flower Show committee for failure to comply with the rules. All specimen flowers must be garden grown by the exhibitor. The committee not responsible for loss or breakage.

ARTISTIC arrangements and house plants of the first adult show are to be removed after 9 p. m. Junior exhibits are to remain until after 4 p. m. Saturday. All exhibits of the August 1 show are to remain until after 4 p. m. Saturday.

The organizational project gardens will remain in place during the entire week of the Fair.

Old Friends Spahn, Burdette Slated for Mound Showdown

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette, who were roommates when they hurled the Milwaukee Braves to National League pennants in 1957 and 1958, are scheduled for a mound showdown today. Spahn, at 42 baseball's most successful left-handed pitcher, will be on the mound for the Braves, while the 36-year-old Burdette will be wearing the uniform of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"It will be strange facing Burdette at the plate," Spahn said Wednesday night as the assignments were announced. "In fact, it's strange seeing him in another dugout."

Burdette joined Spahn in the exchange of mock concern over the other's plate power.

Spahn, according to Burdette's findings, "is a better over-all hitter than I am. And he should be, he's been playing 15 years longer than I have." Of his own hitting, Burdette said, "I hit in spots."

But the plate power of the two master hurlers is not all jest. Spahn's 33 career homers are a high for National League pitchers. Burdette owns a piece of a National League record for hitting by pitchers, twice belting two home runs in a game.

The stage for the face-to-face test was set when the Braves traded Burdette to the Cards June 15 in a bid to add some punch to the batting order. Milwaukee got outfielder-infielder Gene Oliver and rookie pitcher Bob Sadowski in the swap.

The game will mark the second time the Braves have been opposed by Burdette. The Braves had all the better of the first meeting, handing the right-hander his eighth defeat in 15 decisions and third as a Cardinal in taking a 5-3 victory July 11 in St. Louis. Burdette has won only once for the Cardinals and has not figured in a decision since the game with the Braves, when he was driven out in the seventh inning.

Spahn has a 12-4 record as he seeks his 13th season of 20 or more victories. All of Spahn's 339 victories have been pitched for the Braves, and Burdette tossed all but one of his 180 triumphs for Milwaukee.

When Burdette pulled out of the Milwaukee camp, he said, "I hope somebody misses me." Tonight's game should show the fan reaction to his wish.

Ed Wells added three hits and a pair of runs to the Coke offense. One of his hits went for two bases.

For the losers, Andy Blanton's lone hit was a circuit clout while Rod Kasler blasted a triple. Deny Bass doubled.

The Jets scored in every inning.

6 Teams in IL Split Twin Bills

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wednesday night proved to be a time for comebacks in the International League as six teams split doubleheaders.

Atlanta bowed to Rochester 10-3 in the opener but rebounded to a 12-4 victory in the nightcap. Syracuse beat Jacksonville 3-1 in the first game but the Suns came back to trounce the Chiefs 9-1 in the second. And Richmond defeated Columbus 6-1 before falling 6-2 to the Jets.

In single games Arkansas edged Toronto 6-5 and Buffalo shaded Indianapolis 4-3.

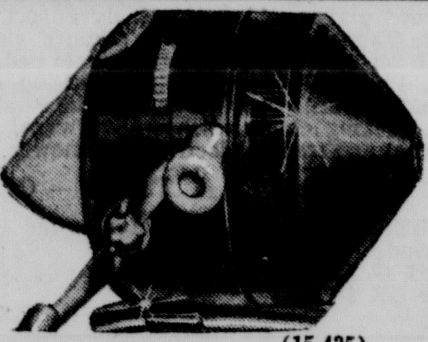

6-Foot-6 Center Plans To Transfer to UoC

CINCINNATI (AP)—Don (Red) Rolfe, 6-foot-6 center from Harrison, Ohio, who played at the University of Kentucky last winter, will enroll in the University of Cincinnati this fall, basketball coach Ed Jucker says.

As a high school senior, Rolfe averaged 30.4 points per game, top scoring mark in Ohio. He played as a sophomore at Kentucky last season but withdrew in the spring.

John Matthews of Watervliet, N. Y., and John Andreoli of Philadelphia are co-captains of Notre Dame's basketball team.

Left-handed pitchers gave the Cleveland Indians trouble last season. Southpaws won 26 games and lost 17.

IOOF, Savings Bank Cop LL Minor Contests

Savings Bank clipped Blue Ribbon Dairy last night, 11-3, as Mike Rhoads twirled a four-hitter and IOOF topped Circleville Oil, 15-4, on a fine four-hitter by Tom Bowers in Little League minor action.

Rhoads hurled six frames of well scattered four-hit ball, and fanned 10 while walking three. He allowed three runs in the fifth on a double, a two-base error, two walks and a fielders choice.

Adkins started for the Blue Ribbon nine. For the three frames he hurled, he scattered four hits, walked five and whiffed six. During his half-game stint, he allowed six runs and his teammates booted two. Steve Thomas aided him and took the loss.

Mike Rhoads clubbed a triple and two singles in three trips. Griffey belted two singles and Congrove garnered two.

ADKINS had a first inning triple, but couldn't score. Tom Thomas managed a double and a single and Dollison had a single.

Savings Bank 8-4 now leads the Red division by one game over Ward's (7-4. Blue Ribbon) is 2-11.

Davis bombed a triple for the IOOF crew. Wirtie Teats slammed two doubles. Bill Gibson had two. Courtwright garnered one and Tom Bowers had one.

Craig Dresbach cracked a triple for the losers. Dave Ogan had a double and a single and Johnson had a single.

Cincinnati Reds Schedule Tryouts At Hillsboro Park

The Cincinnati Reds will sponsor a tryout camp for young ball players throughout southern Ohio at the Hillsboro City Ball Park tomorrow and Saturday.

Players between the ages of 17 and 21 will be given a chance to show their skill. The camps will start at 9 a. m. both days and continue until 3 p. m. Players are to report with gloves, spikes and uniforms.

Gene Bennington, assistant Red-legs scout, Wheelersburg, Buddy Blobaum, Dayton, and Joe Mosea, Hillsboro, will be in charge. This is the first time such a camp has ever been held in Hillsboro.

Demon Putter Seen Winner in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The player who can spot his tee shots consistently and putt like a demon should win the $50,000 Western Open.

The second oldest golf tournament in the nation opened a 60th chapter today with a field of 135 of the game's best starting the 72-hole medal test. It ends Sunday with the winner pocketing $10,000.

The Beverly Country Club course, scene of nine major tournaments in the past, is deceptive with its tight traditions, trees and numerous out-of-bounds. Big hitters like Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, Masters' and newly crowned PGA champion, may leave their drivers in their bags most of the time.

Al Kaline is only 29 but already has completed 10 years with the Detroit Tigers.

Westfall Club Opposes School Name, Colors

Members of the Westfall Booster Club have expressed opposition to the school colors and nickname selected for the Westfall High School athletic teams, it was reported by Jean Writsel, secretary of the group.

The colors, orange and black, and the name, Rebels, were chosen by students in the district through a process of elimination. The various upper grades throughout the district first proposed colors and names. The proposals were voted on, with those receiving the most votes being selected.

A committee of three Booster Club members will meet with the Westfall School Board in protest of the name. On this committee are Bob Conaway, C. H. Steinhauer and Eugene Schleich.

IN OTHER business conducted, final arrangements for the booth at the Pickaway County Fair were discussed.

A menu consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, soft drinks, milk, coffee, pie, ice cream and doughnuts was adopted. Daily chairmen for the booth are Carl Schein, Deercreek, Monday; Franklin Bailey, Monroe, Tuesday; C. H. Steinhauer, Jackson, Wednesday; Jean Writsel, Darby, Thursday; Ruth Renick, Muhlenberg, Friday; Bob Conaway, Perry, Saturday.

Three workers from each township in the district will be needed Sunday to organize the booth and set up an adjacent tent, tables and seats.

Other appointments made by Eugene Schleich, the new president, included Joe Armentrout, chairman of the finance committee; Earl Liff, chairman of the membership committee; C. H. Steinhauer, chairman of the Aug. 3 card party at Jackson School.

Because the club will be busy the week of the fair it was decided to purchase all other food needed for the card party. Only cakes and pies will be donated.

Plain City Pacer Cops Scioto Downs Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Pilot Me, owned and driven by Mel Dillion of Plain City, won the featured seventh race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night and paid $5.20. Time for the mile pace was 2:05 2-5.

The Central Ohio Heart Association Trophy went to the winner. It was presented by Mrs. Woody Hayes, wife of the Ohio State University football coach.

Old Friends Spahn, Burdette Slated for Mound Showdown

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette, who were roommates when they hurled the Milwaukee Braves to National League pennants in 1957 and 1958, are scheduled for a mound showdown today.

Spahn, at 42 baseball's most successful left-handed pitcher, will be on the mound for the Braves, while the 36-year-old Burdette will be wearing the uniform of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Burdette joined Spahn in the exchange of mock concern over the other's plate power.

Spahn, according to Burdette's findings, "is a better over-all hitter than I am. And he should be, he's been playing 15 years longer than I have."

Of his own hitting, Burdette said, "I hit in spots." But the plate power of the two master hurlers is not all just.

Spahn's 33 career homers are a high for National League pitchers. Burdette owns a piece of a National League record for hitting by pitchers, twice belting two home runs in a game.

As Spahn contemplated the mound duel he said, "seriously, we'll be trying to outdo each other."

Spahn has a 12-4 record as he seeks his 13th season of 20 or more victories.

All of Spahn's 339 victories have been pitched for the Braves, and Burdette tossed all but one of his 180 triumphs for Milwaukee.

When Burdette pulled out of the Milwaukee camp, he said, "I hope somebody misses me." Tonight's game should show the fan reaction to his wish.

Ed Wells added three hits and a pair of runs to the Coke offense. One of his hits went for two bases.

Westfall Club Opposes School Name, Colors

Members of the Westfall Booster Club have expressed opposition to the school colors and nickname selected for the Westfall High School athletic teams, it was reported by Jean Writsel, secretary of the group.

The colors, orange and black, and the name, Rebels, were chosen by students in the district through a process of elimination.

The various upper grades throughout the district first proposed colors and names. The proposals were voted on, with those receiving the most votes being selected.

A committee of three Booster Club members will meet with the Westfall School Board in protest of the name. On this committee are Bob Conway, C. H. Steinhauer and Eugene Schleich.

IN OTHER business conducted, final arrangements for the booth at the Pickaway County Fair were discussed.

A menu consisting of sandwiches, potato chips, soft drinks, milk, coffee, pie, ice cream and doughnuts was adopted. Daily chairmen for the booth are Carl Schein, Deer Creek, Monday; Franklin Bailey, Monroe, Tuesday; C. H. Steinhauer, Jackson, Wednesday; Jean Writsel, Darby, Thursday; Ruth Renick, Muhlenberg, Friday; Bob Conway, Perry, Saturday.

Three workers from each township in the district will be needed Sunday to organize the booth and set up an adjacent tent, tables and seats.

Other appointments made by Eugene Schleich, the new president, included Joe Armentrout, chairman of the finance committee; Earl Liff, chairman of the membership committee; C. H. Steinhauer, chairman of the Aug. 3 card party at Jackson School.

Because the club will be busy the week of the fair it was decided to purchase all other food needed for the card party. Only cakes and pies will be donated.

Plain City Pacer Cops Scioto Downs Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Pilot Me, owned and driven by Mel Dillion of Plain City, won the featured seventh race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night and paid $5.20. Time for the mile pace was 2:05 2/5.

The Central Ohio Heart Association Trophy went to the winner. It was presented by Mrs. Woody Hayes, wife of the Ohio State University football coach.

Top Seed Loses In Tennis Meet

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Shades of Achilles! A sore heel made the big news Wednesday in the Western Open Junior and went into the quarterfinal stage today.

With the ailing heel of Salt Lake City's Mark Martines a major factor the No. 1 seeded junior division (age 18 and under) duo was among the missing for today's round. The top-seeded entrants in the junior and boys (16 age limit) singles and the boys' doubles were still in it.

Martines and partner Jim Osborne of Honolulu lost to Jack Jackson and John Pickens of Tuscaloosa, Ala., 6-3, 6-2. But in the singles, Osborne upset No. 4 seeded Ham Magill of Atlanta 6-3, 3-6, 6-1.

American Football League Believes It Is Now Mature

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Foss propped his feet on the desk, puffed on a long black cigar and talked about the American Football League. He was careful not to flick any ashes on the bright green wall-to-wall carpeting in his new office on Fifth Avenue.

As the crowd flies it is less than a block down the street to the office of Pete Rozelle, the rival pro football commissioner, in Radio City. The crowd traffic, however, is very thin in these parts.

Except for a $10-million suit that still is being appealed, Foss and the AFL seem to be closer to the older National Football League than in the early days of their "war." The AFL is heading into its fourth year with confidence and determination in the belief that the worst is past.

"Our league came of age last year," said Foss, the war hero and former governor of South Dakota. "We went through our crisis. The real acid test to see how serious you are is when one club runs out of money and everybody has to advance cash to keep the operation going."

Foss spoke enthusiastically about the way the AFL had developed its own players. He said about 75 per cent of the players in the league had played professionally only in the AFL.

"Last year the championship team, the Dallas Texans, now the Kansas City Chiefs, had 23 out of 29 developed in our league," said Foss. "The bottom clubs bring down the average because they have to grab the NFL cuts but we're gaining every year."

"We have made a steady climb in attendance every year. Our television sponsors all have renewed. Each club should get about $240,000 from TV this year."

Foss said the other clubs in the league put up $262,000 to keep the New York Titans going and would get back some from the sale of the club to the new group which has changed its name to the Jets.

The cigar was only a stub and the morning was almost gone when Foss got around to talking about the NFL. He expects to see the day when one commissioner will govern both leagues, like baseball, with separate league presidents.

"Our relationship has been real good as far as recognizing each other's contracts," said Foss. "We recognize their suspensions too."

"It won't be long before we will be playing one another. The franchise owners are practical people in both leagues. No dreamers. I feel that if we played them right now I wouldn't have to make any apologies."

"A championship game between the two leagues would be the most natural attraction. The winner would be the true world champion."

And how long before this millennium?
"It could be by the end of the 1964 season," said Foss.

Honors Seen For Pilot of Incredible Cubs

NL Manager of Year Tag May Go to Head Coach Bob Kennedy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Barring a complete disintegration of his forces, Bob Kennedy of the incredible Chicago Cubs appeared a certainty today to be voted 1963 National League manager of the year.

But hold on there. How can one bestow a managerial accolade upon a coach, even if he has been designated as head coach?

Cub owner Philip K. Wrigley, insists there is no manager on his club.

Kennedy, in his first year with the Cubs, is last on the list of 12 Chicago coaches appearing in the National League green book. But he is the acknowledged boss on the field. Wednesday the third-place Cubs defeated Cincinnati 2-1 behind the four-hit pitching of southpaw Dick Ellsworth to advance to within a game of the second place St. Louis Cardinals who were beaten 8-1 by the Milwaukee Braves.

Nine games over .500, the Cubs are eight games in back of the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers who defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates for the seventh straight time, 5-1. San Francisco's fourth-place Giants eked out a 4-3 victory over the New York Mets and Philadelphia whipped Houston 6-3.

The American League-leading New York Yankees defeated Los Angeles 8-4 but had their lead trimmed to 8½ games by the Minnesota Twins who blanked Cleveland twice 9-0 and 5-0. Kansas City also took two, by 5-2 and 7-6 scores against Boston. Baltimore topped Washington 8-5 and the Chicago White Sox clipped Detroit 3-1.

Ellsworth, a 20-game loser last year, outpitched Cincinnati's Bob Purkey for his 14th victory. He has lost seven. Trailing 1-0, the Cubs scored twice after two out in the seventh on back-to-back doubles by outfielders Lou Brock and Ellis Burton. Andre Rodgers had singled earlier in the inning.

Don Drysdale who almost never loses in July, posted his fourth victory of the month as the Dodgers increased their first-place lead over the Cards to seven games. The big right-hander allowed five hits, struck out eight and walked one.

The Dodgers got a run in the third off loser Earl Francis and broke a 1-1 tie with a four-run rally in the fifth. They scored one run on a bases-loaded walk, two more on a single by Johnny Roseboro and another on a wild pitch.

Milwaukee southpaw Deny LeMaster respun a five-hitter against the Cards for his sixth season victory. Dennis Menke and Frank Bolling supported him with home runs.

American Football League Believes It Is Now Mature

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Foss propped his feet on the desk, puffed on a long black cigar and talked about the American Football League. He was careful not to flick any ashes on the bright green wall-to-wall carpeting in his new office on Fifth Avenue.

As the crowd flies it is less than a block down the street to the office of Pete Rozelle, the rival pro football commissioner, in Radio City. The crowd traffic, however, is very thin in these parts.

Except for a $10-million suit that still is being appealed, Foss and the AFL seem to be closer to the older National Football League than in the early days of their "war." The AFL is heading into its fourth year with confidence and determination in the belief that the worst is past.

"Our league came of age last year," said Foss, the war hero and former governor of South Dakota. "We went through our crisis. The real acid test to see how serious you are is when one club runs out of money and everybody has to advance cash to keep the operation going."

Foss spoke enthusiastically about the way the AFL had developed its own players. He said about 75 per cent of the players in the league had played professionally only in the AFL.

"Last year the championship team, the Dallas Texans, now the Kansas City Chiefs, had 23 out of 29 developed in our league," said Foss. "The bottom clubs bring down the average because they have to grab the NFL cuts but we're gaining every year."

"We have made a steady climb in attendance every year. Our television sponsors all have renewed. Each club should get about $240,000 from TV this year."

Foss said the other clubs in the league put up $262,000 to keep the New York Titans going and would get back some from the sale of the club to the new group which has changed its name to the Jets.

Honors Seen For Pilot of Incredible Cubs

NL Manager of Year Tag May Go to Head Coach Bob Kennedy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Barring a complete disintegration of his forces, Bob Kennedy of the incredible Chicago Cubs appeared a certainty today to be voted 1963 National League manager of the year.

But hold on there. How can one bestow a managerial accolade upon a coach, even if he has been designated as head coach?

Cub owner Philip K. Wrigley, insists there is no manager on his club.

Kennedy, in his first year with the Cubs, is last on the list of 12 Chicago coaches appearing in the National League green book. But he is the acknowledged boss on the field. German Divorcee, Back in Ohio, Tells Why She Awaits Dr. Sam's Freedom

(EDITOR'S Note: Ariane Tebbenjohanns, 34-year-old German divorcee, is back in this country with the announced intention of waiting until convicted wife slayer Sam Sheppard is freed from prison. Meanwhile she is staying with friends in North Olmsted. Here is her story.)

BY ARIANE TEBBENJOHANNIS

CLEVELAND (AP) — People often ask me: "why do you love Dr. Sam Sheppard, a man in prison for killing his wife?"

Let me say first, Dr. Sam is innocent. He was convicted on circumstantial evidence.

I believe in him. I sincerely love him.

When I read the first article about Dr. Sam Sheppard back in 1954, I did not fall in love with him, of course.

He was good looking, successful as an osteopathic surgeon, the family hospital waiting for him. People said women were throwing themselves at him. They accused him to being involved with them occasionally, although he was married.

This seemed sufficient for almost everybody to say: "He has been no good, so he must have done the killing of his wife too."

This upset me, for I also have been confronted with prejudice as long as I can remember.

Because I wear long, dangling earrings, eye makeup and don't live or dress the average way, people who don't know me often say, "She can't be any good."

Only in 1959 was I courageous enough to write to the Sheppard family to tell them that I believe in his innocence.

For almost five years, Sam took no interest in any letter from women—and they keep coming to this day.

He was half dead and half alive before I came, as he puts it. But when Dr. Stephen Sheppard showed him my letter Sam said for the first time: "Ask her to send her picture and to tell me all about herself and her life. I want to know more about her."

Through Dr. Steve our correspondence prospered and I was officially approved in 1962 on Sam's mailing list and we could correspond directly.

On the back of the cross he had engraved: "Sam — Love — Ariane."

I wrote him on Christmas Eve his most cherished of all my letters without the phrase "I love you" because I was anxiously trying to avoid upsetting the feelings of a man behind bars. I merely told him that Christmas Eve is the time I write my letters to those closest to my heart.

I told him that my thoughts are with him on Christmas Eve and that I was only hoping that this is a small comfort to him. And I told him I had made arrangements to come to the United States.

What I did not tell him was that I had made up my mind to go to the United States to meet him personally, to find out if I was dreaming up a love with a man I had never met.

I knew that I am rather realistic so I either had to put an end to this "mail romance" or to name it love to Sam and to my very self.

And when I saw him for the first time that cold morning of Jan. 24 of this year at Marion, Ohio, semi-honor dorm, we both knew it was love all right.

We knew it was not love at first sight but love before first sight.

It was 15 degrees below outside when I entered the prison. I had received official permission that I was "welcome to visit Sam Sheppard" between 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

We spent four and a half hours in the visiting room. There was no pause in our conversation. We talked like people who had been very close for ages.

All this made me love him even more. I haven't seen him since that day in January. I haven't even been allowed to write to him yet. I won't despair. My love is stronger than prison bars.

I will keep on trying to get permission to see him because officials should realize I am sincere.

I gave up my home and friends in Germany, travelled 3,000 miles to be near him.

It is not easy to start a new life in a country still somewhat strange to me where I am constantly criticized because I am a foreigner and where I am not welcome.

But I am confident that those who doubt my words, my sincerity and my conviction that Dr. Sam is innocent, will some day see they were wrong.

Every marriage is a risk, no matter how long or well people have known each other.

And not everybody will talk or write as much as we did for four years about things we like, about our opinions and certain subjects, about our reactions on certain occasions.

But I am relaxed and sure of our deep love, waiting for the day when I can start my great "risk." To live my love with Sam.

Woman Driver Fined $100 in Muny Court

Appearing in Circleville Municipal Court yesterday, Joyce Ann Sexton, 19, Jackson, was handed a fine of $100 and costs and sentenced to three months in the county jail.

She was charged by the State Highway Patrol for permitting an unlicensed person under the age of 18 to drive a car. Acting Judge Ray Davis ordered her jail sentence suspended and placed her on probation for one year.

Ashville attorney David Kraft was acting Municipal Court Judge today during the absence of Sterling M. Lamb, currently recuperating from an illness.

Lawrence Ater, Clarksburg, was handed a $25 fine with $10 suspended by Kraft. He was charged with operating a motor vehicle without due regard for the safety of others. Two other cases were.

George R. Patrick, 44, Waverly; $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Thomas Ball, 20, Milton W. Va., $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

CFD Douses Auto Blaze

Three Circleville Firemen doused a car blaze early today at the Berger Hospital parking lot.

The blaze was confined to the engine compartment of an auto owned by Barbara Valentine, Columbus, a telephone operator at the hospital. Damage was estimated at $75.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined. Firemen said the auto was driven into the lot just a short time before the fire was discovered at about 12:30 a. m.

The flames were extinguished, but not before Firemen Martin Garner, Don Edgington and Glen Jones ran into trouble getting the hood released to get at the blaze.

Two Sisters Step On Rusty Nails

Two sisters, Brenda Crumley, 4, and Tonja Crumley, 7, children of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Keeton, Route 4, both stepped on rusty nails and required emergency aid in Berger Hospital yesterday. Also receiving treatment were:

Keith O'Conner, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil O'Conner, Williamsport, who stepped on a piece of glass and cut his right foot.

Emmer Baldwin, 20, of Route 1, Stoutsville, punctured his right arm with a splinter.

Elma Buchwalter, 64, of Columbus, fell and fractured her right arm.

German Divorcee, Back in Ohio, Tells Why She Awaits Dr. Sam's Freedom

BY ARIANE TEBBENJOHANNIS

CLEVELAND (AP) — People often ask me: "Why do you love Dr. Sam Sheppard, a man in prison for killing his wife?"

Let me say first, Dr. Sam is innocent. He was convicted on circumstantial evidence.

I believe in him. I sincerely love him.

When I read the first article about Dr. Sam Sheppard back in 1954, I did not fall in love with him, of course.

I was only tremendously impressed by the verdict on only circumstantial evidence and by the prejudice against him from the beginning.

He was good looking, successful as an osteopathic surgeon, the family hospital waiting for him. People said women were throwing themselves at him. They accused him to being involved with them occasionally, although he was married.

This seemed sufficient for almost everybody to say: "He has been no good, so he must have done the killing of his wife too." This upset me, for I also have been confronted with prejudice as long as I can remember.

Because I wear long, dangling earrings, eye makeup and don't live or dress the average way people who don't know me often say, "She can't be any good."

Only in 1959 was I courageous enough to write to the Sheppard family to tell them that I believe in his innocence.

For almost five years, Sam took no interest in any letter from women—and they keep coming to this day.

He was half dead and half alive before I came, as he puts it. But when Dr. Stephen Sheppard showed him my letter Sam said for the first time: "Ask her to send her picture and to tell me all about herself and her life. I want to know more about her."

Through Dr. Steve our correspondence prospered and I was officially approved in 1962 on Sam's mailing list and we could correspond directly.

On Dec. 15, 1962, I received a censored letter from Sam, containing a beautiful little silver cross on a thin silver chain for Christmas.

On the back of the cross he had engraved: "Sam — Love — Ariane."

I wrote him on Christmas Eve his most cherished of all my letters without the phrase "I love you" because I was anxiously trying to avoid upsetting the feelings of a man behind bars. I merely told him that Christmas Eve is the time I write my letters to those closest to my heart.

I told him that my thoughts are with him on Christmas Eve and that I was only hoping that this is a small comfort to him. And I told him I had made arrangements to come to the United States.

What I did not tell him was that I had made up my mind to go to the United States to meet him personally, to find out if I was dreaming up a love with a man I had never met.

I knew that I am rather realistic so I either had to put an end to this "mail romance" or to name it love to Sam and to my very self.

And when I saw him for the first time that cold morning of Jan. 24 of this year at Marion, Ohio, semi-honor dorm, we both knew it was love all right.

We knew it was not love at first sight but love before first sight. It was 15 degrees below outside when I entered the prison. I had received official permission that I was "welcome to visit Sam Sheppard" between 8:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

We spent four and a half hours in the visiting room. There was no pause in our conversation. We talked like people who had been very close for ages.

All this made me love him even more. I haven't seen him since that day in January. I haven't even been allowed to write to him. Yet, I won't despair. My love is stronger than prison bars.

I will keep on trying to get permission to see him because officials should realize I am sincere. I gave up my home and friends in Germany, travelled 3,000 miles to be near him.

It is not easy to start a new life in a country still somewhat strange to me where I am constantly criticized because I am a foreigner and where am not welcomed.

But I am confident that those who doubt my words, my sincerity and my conviction that Dr. Sam is innocent, will some day see they were wrong.

Every marriage is a risk, no matter how long or well people have known each other.

And not everybody will talk or write as much as we did for four years about things we like, about our opinions and certain subjects, about our reactions on certain occasions.

But I am relaxed and sure of our deep love, waiting for the day when I can start my great "risk." To live my love with Sam.

Woman Driver Fined $100 in Muny Court

Appearing in Circleville Municipal Court yesterday, Joyce Ann Sexton, 19, Jackson, was handed a fine of $100 and costs and sentenced to three months in the county jail.

She was charged by the State Highway Patrol for permitting an unlicensed person under the age of 18 to drive a car. Acting Judge Ray Davis ordered her jail sentence suspended and placed her on probation for one year.

Ashville attorney David Kraft was acting Municipal Court Judge today during the absence of Sterling M. Lamb, currently recuperating from an illness.

Lawrence Ater, Clarksburg, was handed a $25 fine with $10 suspended by Kraft. He was charged with operating a motor vehicle without due regard for the safety of others. Two other cases were.

George R. Patrick, 44, Waverly; $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Thomas Ball, 20, Milton W. Va.; $10 and costs for speeding 70 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

CFD Douses Auto Blaze

The blaze was confined to the engine compartment of an auto owned by Barbara Valentine, Columbus, a telephone operator at the hospital. Damage was estimated at $75.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined. Firemen said the auto was driven into the lot just a short time before the fire was discovered at about 12:30 a. m.

The flames were extinguished, but not before Firemen Martin Garner, Don Edgington and Glen Jones ran into trouble getting the hood released to get at the blaze.

Two Sisters Step On Rusty Nails

Two sisters, Brenda Crumley, 4, and Tonia Crumley, 7, children of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Keeton, Route 4, both stepped on rusty nails and required emergency aid in Berger Hospital yesterday. Also receiving treatment were:

Keith O'Connor, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil O'Connor, Williamsport, who stepped on a piece of glass and cut his right foot.

Elma Buchwalter, 64, of Columbus, fell and fractured her right arm.

All five persons were released following treatment.
